ALLIED LEADERS DELAY ACTION IN HUNGARY

SIR HERBERT AMES TO REPRESENT DOMINION ON STAFF OF LEAGUE

Member of Parliament for St. Antoine, Montreal, Accepts Appoinment as a Financial Director; Will Leave Canada About September 8

Ottawa, Aug. 12.—The creation of the League of Nations involves the establishment at the seat of the League, which probably will be Geneva, Switzerland, of a permanent secretariat, and Canada, being one of the signatory powers to the treaty of peace, was invited to nominate a Canadian as a financial director of that organization. It is announced here the the Prime Minister offered this important post to Sir Herbert Ames, M. P. for the St. Antoine division of Montreal, and that Sir Herbert has accepted the appointment.

It is not Sir Herbert's intention for the present, at least, to resign his seat in Parliament. He expects to be present at the opening of the session here and will sail for the United Kingdom about September 8.

POLICE PREVENTED RIOT IN TORONTO

Civilians and Soldiers Fought Sunday, But Not Last Night

Toronto, Aug. 12.—What looked like a repetition of the riots of August, 1918 here, was nipped in the bud in the grounds of Trinity College last night.

The trouble, according to the police, began on Sunday night when about a dozen soldiers and an equal number of civilians got into a fight over some women, who, it is alleged, were being hooted at by the men in uniform. A fight resulted in which the soldiers were beaten, about three of them being badly knocked about.

Last night fifty soldiers in uniform marched to the park, where they found the civilians who previously had given them battle encamped in strength. Luckily the military and civilian police had been warned and arrived just in time to prevent trouble.

No arrests were made.

STATES OFFICIALS WORK FOR DEFICIT

A. B. Garretson Tells Washington Committee Railroad Officials Dishonest

Washington, Aug. 12.—A. B. Garretson, former head of the Order of Railway Conductors, told the House Interstate Commerce Committee today that operating officials in charge of railroads in the United States during Government control were actuated by the one desire of demonstrating that Government ownership was not best for the country.

Exactly the same operating force that built up a great surplus before the war created the present big deficit, Garretson said.

Toward Wall Street.

"When the railroad official prays he turns his face to Wall Street," said he, "but once it is demonstrated that management in future will centre in Washington, I am sure he will serve the Government as earnestly as he served the old masters in the past."

Discussing the Plumb plan for tripartite control of the railroads, Mr. Garretson said it "utterly demolished capital account, while the other plans submitted to Congress added to it until the grandchildren of the present generation would stagger under the load."

VEDDER RIVER FIRE CAUSES BIG LOSS

Sardis, B. C., Aug. 12.—A big bush fire started on Thursday evening in the vicinity of the Vedder River, between Cultus Lake and the river. A large amount of valuable timber has been destroyed, and Fire Ranger Gordon Knight estimates the damage roughly at $500,000. The fire crossed a portion of the Indian reserve, but not in the vicinity of any dwellings.

DRUMHELLER MINES PRODUCING AGAIN

Strike Which Existed Since May 24 Is Brought to End

Drumheller, Alta., Aug. 12.—The throb of pumps and the many other activities common to a mining camp told their own tale at the various collieries in the Drumheller Valley this morning. The strike which had been in existence since May 24 had ended.

The men of the One Big Union element state that before they return to work they require an order from Coal Commissioner Armstrong and a dispatch is being forwarded to that official without delay.

So far none of the foreign element have returned to work. Those that have done so are the better class miners.

The mines at which a start more or less was made this morning were the Drumheller, Atlas, Manitoba, Premier, A. B. C., Newcastle, Sterling, North American, Scranton, Western Gem and Midland. From what can be ascertained at the moment, the mines are in excellent condition notwithstanding the fact that they were idle so long.

MICHAELIS NOW IS TAKING HAND

Adds Statement of Own to Peace-Feeler Discussion in Germany

Ex-Chancellor Says He Did Not Refuse Negotiations in 1917

Berlin, Aug. 12.—(Associated Press).—George Michaelis, former Imperial German Chancellor, has sent to German newspapers a statement declaring he did not refuse to negotiate with Great Britain through Pope Benedict in 1917, as has been alleged by Premier Bauer in recently published statements. Premier Bauer made public a leter from Dr. Michaelis to Field Marshall con Hindenburg, dated September 12, 1917, seeking to prove that there was a refusal to meet Great Britain with a view to making peace at that time.

Suppression Charged.

The former Chancellor declares that in making public the letter the Premier suppressed one important part. This section Dr. Michaelis includes with his statement to the press. It follows:

"Who will venture to attack Germany again after she has maintained herself for three or four years against superior power, and lately as an incomparable yroof of her competence, has achieved a brilliant victory in the East? If we, on the above basis, were able to obtain peace for our poor, tortured people and the world, then we ought to do it, not conduct the war one moment longer."

Dr. Michaelis concludes his statement by saying that had his complete leter been published, the representatives of the Government would not have convinced a portion of their party that he had refused a peace offer in a responsible manner.

SOCIALISTS NOT IN HUNGARIAN CABINET

Will Not Participate in Government Headed by a Hapsburg

Berlin, Aug. 12.—Plans for a coalition Cabinet at Budapest appear further from solution than ever since the refusal of Paul Garami, the Socialist leader, to participate in a Government having a Hapsburg at its head, according to advices received.

National Assembly.

Premier Friedrich has announced that the Hungarian National Assembly will convene within eight weeks. He says it will meet on a basis of a republican state, but M. Lovasay, who has been named for a post in the Department of Instruction, has declared that form of the Hungarian Government will be decided upon only after his arrival in Budapest from Switzerland. He is said to agree thoroughly with Dr. Wilhelm Vaszony, a Hungarian Socialist leader, who also is on his way home from Switzerland and who is urging the formation of a Democratic Liberal Cabinet in which the whole national strength could be concentrated.

Bela Kun.

Governmental discussion in Vienna is centring about the problem as to whether Bela Kun, the ex-Bolshevik Dictator of Hungary, should be accorded asylum in Austria or be delivered to the first country demanding him for trial, according to advices received here from the Austrian capital. It is said that sentiment is decidedly against granting him asylum.

PRINCE OF WALES GREETED BY CROWDS IN ST. JOHNS

St. Johns, Nfld., Aug. 12.—The Prince of Wales landed here at noon to-day and rode through an enthusiastic crowd lining two miles of city streets over which decorated arches had been erected. The Prince, who crossed to Newfoundland from the United Kingdom on the battlecruiser Renown, was loudly cheered as he proceeded through the city.

The landing here was not the Prince's first landing on Newfoundland soil, which event took place yesterday at Topsail, a fishing village on Conception Bay, where he went ashore from the Renown for a few hours, returning to the warship.

While ashore at Topsail the Prince and several members of his suite spent some time strolling about the country and obtaining photographs.

Several hundred seamen, marines and cadets from the Renown and its escorting squadron were given shore leave.

Admiral Halsey and Colonel Grigg, of the Prince's staff, came to St. Johns by motor from Topsail, a distance of twelve miles, to discuss with the Governor the details of the programme prepared for the reception of the Prince to-day.

Consumers' League In Paris Is Cutting the Cost of Living

Paris, Aug. 12.—(Associated Press)—Success of the Consumers' League movement, organized in the Montmarte district, and now spreading throughout Paris, was indicated by an average reduction of twenty per cent. on provisions yesterday. MEAT PRICES SLASHED IN SPOKANE AND HOUSEWIVES BUY FREELY FOR TABLES

Spokane, Aug. 12.—The housewives of Spokane are making hay while the sun of the local meat war shines. Slashes in the prices of meat yesterday were maintained to-day, with probabilities that they would become even greater. The latest meat prices show a cut of approximately seventy-five per cent. Sirloin steak sells for 12½ cents per pound, round steak at 15 cents, pot roasts at 10 cents, veal stews at 12½ cents, T-bone steaks at 15 cents and others in proportion.

The war is an outgrowth of the butchers' strike and affects a number of shops.

Sugar.

Chicago, Aug. 12.—Henry C. Rolopp, in charge of the sugar bureau of the United States Food Administration, to-day set twelve cents a pound as a fair price for the commodity to the consumer. He declared that any retail price in excess of this figure was "outrageous profiteering." For several weeks grocers have charged as high as sixteen cents a pound.

Wheat Standards.

Washington, Aug. 12. — Demands that changes be made in Government wheat standards under the price guarantee measure "so as not to penalize every grower of wheat" were made in a statement prepared by Chairman Gronna and representatives of farm organizations and presented to-day to the Senate Agriculture Committee.

HOY IS EAGER TO MAKE FLIGHT AGAIN

Wrecking of Plane Between Calgary and Coast Only An Incident

Vancouver, Aug. 12.—"Crashed plane at Golden in order to avoid hitting trees. Very sorry. Am ready to take another machine on arrival and make the same flight. Will be in Vancouver Tuesday night. Hoy."

The above telegram was received here by George Taylor, president of the Aerial League of Canada, from Captain Hoy, D. F. C., Canada's first aviator to cross the Rocky Mountains, who was on his return journey from Calgary. Captain Hoy will be here at 11 p. m., and will be met by civic officials and representatives of public bodies, as well as his comrades of the Aerial League. Plans are under way for h reception for the airman to-morrow. He will be a guest of honor at a Canadian Club luncheon on Thursday.

The sudden termination of the return trip yesterday has not dampened the spirits of President Taylor and the members of the Aerial League.

"Captain Foy has crossed the Rockies, and has proved beyond doubt that aerial transportation between the coast and the prairies is a possibility. We are proud of his wonderful achievement, and the mere crashing of a machine is nothing compared to the wonderful feat which has been accomplished," stated Mr. Taylor this morning.

"Captain Hoy is eager to make the attempt again, and arrangements may be made for him to make another trip."

Berne, Aug. 12.—(Associated Press)—The Swiss people in a plebiscite held yesterday decided by a vote of 195,000 to 77,000 that the general election, which should normally be held next year, should be advanced to the last Sunday of October of this year.

SAY EX-ARCHDUKE AN INTERLOPER

Czecho-Slovak Socialists Say He Does Not Represent Hungarians' Wishes

Prague, Aug. 11.—Via London, Aug. 12.—(Associated Press)—Large but orderly demonstrations were held here to-day, being led generally by the Social Democratic element in protest against the coup de'etat by which Ex-Archduke Joseph became the head of the new Hungarian Government.

At the beginning of the Roumanian invasion of Hungary the more conservative elements of Czecho-Slovakia were insistent that a Czech army advance immediately into Hungary to protect their interests. President T. G. Masaryk and the members of his Ministry opposed such a movement, declaring that they desired to co-ordinate with the great powers, and did not wish to participate in an invasion which was in violation of the armistice.

Reactionaries.

Fears are expressed that the reactionary element in Vienna will soon join forces with those back of Ex-Archduke Joseph, and will amalgamate the Austrian and Hungarian states into an autocratic Government which will become the centre of autocratic propaganda in Central Europe.

It is hoped by Czeco-Slovak officials that the Allies will prevent the new regime from succeeding. No Czecho-Slovak official believes that Ex-Archduke Joseph, a Hapsburg, any more represents the true sentiment of the Hungarian common people than did Bela Kun. They say the former Government was and the present Government is based on "terrorism and in opposition to the aspirations of the common people through Central Europe."

To-day's demonstrations made it necessary for the Government to make some declaration and the sentiments of a large majority of officials are epitomized above.

Allied Note.

The Czecho-Slovaks are cheered by the note from the Peace Conference to the Roumanians on August 7 inquiring whether the Roumanians had "decided to dissociate themselves from the Allies."

A strong feeling exists that the relationship between the Hohenzollerns and the Hapsburgs is in some way connected with the present Hohenzollern occupant of the Roumanian throne, King Ferdinand, and the latest developments in Hungary.

As a result of to-day's demonstrations the Social Democrats seem inclined to support an invasion of Hungary at once with a view of overthrowing the Government headed by Ex-Archduke Joseph.

ALLIES WAITING FOR REPORT FROM AGENTS AT WORK IN HUNGARY

No Action Until Military Mission Has Made Its Report on Situation; Hungarian Workmen Say ex-Archduke Joseph Must Disappear

Paris, Aug. 12.—The Peace Conference, it was apparent here to-day, will take no action in the Hungarian situation till the Inter-Allied military mission which has been sent to Budapest makes its report.

"The Hungarian Workmen's Federation must be reckoned with now and for all time. When the war was two years old it had a membership of 85,000. It now has 700,000, and the workmen want no king."

Budapest, Aug. 11.—Via London, Aug. 12.—(Associated Press).—The old administrative officials have resumed their functions throughout the country.

The official journal to-day prints a statement made by Ex-Archduke Joseph saying: "As soon as the National Assembly meets after the elections, my work will automatically end and the decisions of the National Assembly will be sacred to all of us."

Property.

Basel, Aug. 11.—Via London, Aug. 12.—Hungarian Communist measures abolishing private property have been abrogated in a decree issued by the Hungarian Government, according to a dispatch from Budapest.

The flying craft, one of the largest of its type yet built, fell into the sea 500 yards off shore. The planes crumpled under the impact with the water. Lieut. Macleod, who was piloting the machine, was found drowned, strapped in his seat, when the wrecked craft was towed ashore.

Mrs. Daniels and the two Daniels boys will accompany the Secretary. The party will return to San Francisco about September 1.

UNIT OF PRINCESS PATS HERE WILL GO TO TORONTO

Vancouver, Aug. 12.—Orders have been received by Major-General Leckie, G. O. C. Military District No. 11, from Ottawa to the effect that the company of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry at present forming part of the garrison at Victoria will be sent to Toronto within the next few weeks. It is understood that this move does not foreshadow any change of policy of the Department of Militia as far as the establishment of a permanent company of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry in British Columbia is concerned, but indicates that members of the unit will be concentrated at Toronto for purposes of training. Their stay in Ontario is expected to last several months.

The original intention of the authorities was to have one company at Work Point Barracks and one at Vancouver. The men who had been enlisted at Victoria were sent to Esquimalt some time ago and training has been carried on there. There are in all about forty men now on the strength of this company.

Recruiting for the permanent force throughout the west has not been particularly brisk and it is thought that it is the intention of the Department to save unnecessary expense by concentrating the troops at one central point for training. When men of the Princess Pats go east, possibly before the end of the current month, there will remain in British Columbia only a small company of men of the 5th Garrison Artillery at Esquimalt and the skeleton staffs at the clearing depots and at headquarters.

Ex-Member of Parliament, Formerly an Austrian, Is Sent Away

London, Aug. 12.—Ignatius Tribich Lincoln, a former member of Parliament, has been deported. He has been in prison here since 1916.

Ignatius Lincoln formerly was an Austrian subject but became a naturalized citizen of Britain. On August 14, 1915, he was arrested in Brooklyn, N. Y., on a charge of forgery preferred by the British consul in New York. Lincoln then declared he was a German spy and that the British wanted him for that affence.

Extradition of Lincoln on the forgery charge was ordered by the United States district court of New York. Lincoln endeavored to obtain his liberty by means of a writ of habeas corpus, which was denied. On January 15, 1916, he escaped from the custody of a deputy marshal and remained at liberty for over a month. He finally was deported on May 27, 1916.

He was tried for forgery in London and was sentenced to three years' imprisonment. Early in the year his certificate of British naturalization was revoked.

Reed to vote for its ratification were adopted by the Democratic State Committee here yesterday. O. H. MYERS SAYS HE COULD NOT DO A FULL DAY'S WORK

Says He Now Understands Why So Many People Are Praising Tanlac

"Well I have been taking Tanlac only a short while, and I am not surprised that so many people are praising it," said O. H. Myers, who lives at 648 13th Avenue East, Vancouver, while talking to a Tanlac representative the other day.

"When I commenced taking Tanlac," continued Mr. Myers, "I had been suffering from stomach trouble for about nine months. Ever since the trouble first started, I had been trying to find something that would overcome it, but I just gradually grew worse until I got hold of Tanlac, and I am glad to say that my condition has been greatly improved since I began taking this wonderful medicine. Everything I ate would sour on my stomach, and I would be badly bloated up with gas for hours at a time. Sometimes this gas would choke me up so bad that I could hardly get a good breath. I was very nervous and never got a good night's sleep. I also suffered from rheumatism in my feet and ankles, and this trouble was so bad at times that I could hardly walk. I finally got so weak and run-down that it was out of the question for me to do a full days work.

"I had been reading the statements about Tanlac, and one day I noticed where a man who had suffered just as I did, had been greatly helped by taking it, so I made up my mind to give it a trial. The results I have gotten from Tanlac already are wonderful. Why, I have only taken two bottles so far, but my appetite is fine, and I can eat just anything I want without suffering afterwards. I hardly ever have a headache now, and before taking Tanlac, I would have severe spells of it every day or so. I feel stronger and better in every way, and am gaining in weight right along. I am going to continue taking Tanlac until my troubles have been completely overcome, and judging from the good it has already done me, I don't think it will be very long until I will be as well and strong as I ever was."

THIRD DOSE RELIEF!
FIFTH DOSE!
DIARRHOEA STOPPED
Diarrhoea does not need to persist for any length of time until the whole system is weakened and debilitated. No other disease so quickly undermines the strength and brings about a condition of prostration and very often total collapse.
Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is not only prompt and effectual in checking the diarrhoea, but at the same time acts as a stimulant, strengthens the heart and braces up the whole system, and one of its principal points is that it does not leave the bowels in a constipated condition.
Mr. W. H. Arnold, Fort Qu'Appelle, Sask., writes: "A few years ago while out threshing, I had a severe attack of diarrhoea. Nothing I took seemed to do me any good. I was getting worse all the time. Hearing that Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry was good for diarrhoea, I went into town and procured a bottle. After the third dose I felt relief, and after I had taken the fifth dose the diarrhoea had stopped. I always keep it in the house, and would not be without it."
See that you get the original "Dr. Fowler's." It has been on the market for the past 74 years. Substitutes may endanger your health. Price 35c. Put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

V. C. MAN HEARD AT WINNIPEG TRIAL

Sergt. Coppins Testified at Strike Leaders' Hearing; Detective Heard

Winnipeg, Aug. 12.—Sergeant Coppins, V. C., was a witness at yesterday's session of the preliminary hearing of the eight strike leaders here on charges of seditious conspiracy. He related how during the riots of June 10 a mob composed largely of foreigners attacked him and inflicted injuries to his ribs.

Harry Deskaluk, detective of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police, told of a meeting in Liberty Hall on May 2, at which William Ivens spoke on the One Big Union movement. Ivens predicted a change was coming but expressed the hope that it might come without bloodshed, said the witness, at which members of his audience objected, declaring that revolution could not be achieved without bloodshed; that the rich man would not give up his house and car without fighting.

P. Alamazoff rose and expressed dissatisfaction with Ivens's speech. He said that many women and children had died from ill-treatment by barbarous capitalists. "Therefore why should I be afraid to kill anyone? We should kill them as fast as we can get them," he said, according to the witness. These remarks were well received and members of the audience said Alamazoff was a true Russian Socialist. Then they turned to Ivens and questioned him. Ivens said that he agreed with them, the witness declared.

Witness told of another meeting held on May 9, when Tom Cassidy, an eastern labor leader, spoke on the One Bib Union. He said that the One Big Union would not have to strike; that if it were well organized "we can take what we want."

A Manifesto.

"The Communist Manifesto," a booklet containing statements that the Communists were in favor of violent revolution, recommended and sold at a meeting a week ago at which W. A. Pritchard spoke, was the subject of cross-examination of Sergeant J. Reames, of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police. Replying to the questions, the witness said he had read the book and handed it to the crown for use as evidence.

The defence counsel read passages from the preface to show it had been written in 1886, and it declared that it pertained to political conditions of those days and not necessarily to conditions at the time the preface was written, 1888. It was an historical document, said defence counsel, and could not be classed as revolutionary propaganda.

Sergeant Reames said Ivens's addresses all contained an indefinable "semi-concrete" incitement to unrest. He thought Ivens was sincere, but his addresses were ill-advised, considering the type of his audience. He remembered one meeting at the labor church when Ivens declared: "You ought to study a little and learn something of what is going on. You are capable of thinking for yourself."

A Boast.

Winnipeg, Aug. 12.—R. Johns boasted of remaining seated during the singing of the National Anthem at a labor meeting in a letter to R. B. Russell, read in court yesterday at the preliminary trial here of Johns, Russell and six other strike leaders for seditious conspiracy.

Other letters read, which had passed between the accused and other agitators and between agitators not on trial, but connected with the accused through the Calgary convention and correspondence, appeared to show that the One Big Union is considered by them not as a basis of labor organization, but as a mere step toward organization which will lead to seizure of industries.

The case for the crown is about concluded.

Johns's Letter.

The letter in which Johns made his boast was sent from Hamilton on April 30. It said in part:

"Well, the meeting opened with playing 'God Save the King.' They were forced to do that to obtain the hall. So the bunch in the audience stood and Lewis Moore and I sat down on the platform and got away with it."

To "Federationist."

A letter from Gordon Carscadden, a Windsor, Ont., labor writer, to the British Columbia Federationist, a labor paper, was read. It said:

"Enclosed find two stories which you may care to use. Keep up the good fight. You are doing excellent work. Yours for the Bolshevik."

In answer to another letter sent from Carscadden to William Ivens, one of the accused and then editor of The Western Labor News, Ivens said:

"My dear Carscadden:

"More power to your punch. Your letter and clipping received. Will see what little I can do. Yours for success, W. Ivens."

Two letters from Carl E. Berg, of Edmonton, a delegate to the Calgary convention, addressed to other persons who attended the convention and later seized by the Royal Northwest Mounted Police, were read: One, addressed to Victor McRae, Peace River, Alta., dated May 17, said in part:

"The One Big Union is now sure of success, and the time will not be far off that we will be able to dictate to the masters under what terms we shall have to sell our labor power and also when we shall be able to take over the industries and run them for the benefit of the producers."

"Universal Card."

Another letter from Berg, addressed to William Kelling, Brule, Alta., dated June 25, said in part:

"One of my friends stated that there was no use to do business (referring to amendment to the One Big Union charter) as the present system would not last over two months, and all we needed was a universal card and all things would right themselves."

How some members of the One Big Union faction intended to work is shown in a letter from T. S. Cassidy, of North Bay, Ont., to J. Kavanaugh, an official of the One Big Union, April 28, read to the court. It said in part:

"I have been getting after Russell, of Winnipeg, to help line up the west now, to, if possible, capture the next Trades and Labor Congress. It is capture or kill. It may even be necessary to 'buy' some credentials for those necessary to the attack. We must get busy quick on the matter."

WANT A DISTRICT NURSE IN COWICHAN

People Trying to Work Out Plan in Conjunction With Hospital

Duncan, Aug. 12.—The Committee for a District Nurse for Cowichan met at the Women's Institute room with Capt. the Rev. F. L. Stephenson in the chair and seven other members present.

A letter was read from Mrs. Hannington, of the Victorian Order, explaining that she had been in Duncan to ascertain the outlook, and while in Duncan she had interviewed the hospital directors and the local doctor and at the present time she could not see her way to send a Victorian Order nurse because the purse of the community was needed to provide funds for a district nurse and also was drawn upon for the support of the hospital. Unless these two were amalgamated there was no great chance to organize the district nursing system successfully. This had been the experience of the Order in other places during the past twenty-one years. In her report to the local committee and to her own headquarters on local conditions Mrs. Hannington stated that it was more economical to have the nurse stationed at the hospital. It would prevent overlapping and also all possibility of friction in the future.

If the hospital should refuse to have the district nurse attached, the Victorian Order would refuse to send a nurse. Under these circumstances Mrs. Hannington recommended that a local graduate should be engaged, if a health centre is established, and the scheme tried out in this way.

Miss Wilson, who is also a member of the Hospital Board, explained that no definite proposition had been laid before that body from the District Nurse Committee. The real difficulty had been the lack of room for nurses. There was no home where the nurses could get away from the neighborhood of patients, they had no recreation rooms and their present quarters were crowded. If the nurses had a home of their own of four or five rooms, to which a children's clinic could also be attached, Miss Wilson felt that the Hospital Board's opposition to the co-operation with a district nurse would vanish.

Guaranteed Salary.

In answer to questions Miss Wilson explained that if a Victorian Order nurse were attached to the hospital the conditions the Order would require would be that her salary must be guaranteed by the hospital, and she would be under the direction of the matron while in the hospital, but would be perfectly free to engage in all outside work.

Mrs. Whidden, the secretary, reported that there was over $350 in the bank towards the pay for a district nurse.

The meeting passed a unanimous vote that a letter be sent to Mrs. Hannington calling her attention to the fact that while she was in Duncan ascertaining the outlook she had failed to interview the District Nurse's Committee. The feeling of the meeting was that she would have secured information most vital to the question had she done so.

The honorary president, K. F. Duncan, M. P. P., and Mrs. Blackwood-Wileman were appointed to draw up some definite plan to lay before the Hospital Board at its monthly meeting on Wednesday and to ascertain if some concerted plan could not be adopted with a view to making the hospital the centre from which all this outside work should be administered.

It was the feeling of the meeting that the District Nurse Committee should, if needed, find the funds to pay for the outside work.

The meeting was very enthusiastic and hopeful that a united scheme should be evolved that would be altogether satisfactory to the health authorities, the district and the hospital.

VANCOUVER STREET RAILWAYMEN'S REQUESTS

Vancouver, Aug. 12.—Fuller details of the proposed agreement on wages and working conditions put up to the British Columbia Electric Railway Company by the Vancouver Street Railwaymen's Union ao replace the present agreement show that the men are desirous of several important changes.

All wage scales in the new agreement cut down the time in which employees receive the maximum rate from eighteen to twelve months, while the demand for five cents an hour extra for all night runs is also an innovation brought about by the internal friction in the union last winter over the matter of day and night runs. The next scale calls for 55 cents per hour for the first six months, instead of 40 cents, as at present; 60 cents for the second six months, instead of 44 cents; and 65 cents thereafter, insteal of 47 cents for the third six months and 50 cents thereafter.

There is an increase asked for car repairers of from 45 to 70 cents an hour, and similar increases are shown in nearly all branches of the company's service.

Time and a half for holidays remains as before, but the holidays are specified to include general holidays that may be called. A day off every eighth day also is called for. Under the present agreement employees in several departments, such as station agents and ticket sellers, are not under the eight-hour day clause. They are included in the proposed agreement.

Negotiations have not been commenced yet between the men and the company.

GREEK PEASANTS KILLED IN THRACE

Salonica, Aug. 11.—Via London, Aug. 12.—An unknown number of Greek peasants was reported killed by Turkish gendarmes and bandits who surrounded the village of Thanto, according to an Athens news agency dispatch.

The Greeks were said to have refused to surrender, and to have disarmed a Turkish detachment that entered the village. When reinforcements arrived the Turks fired on the Greeks.

The dispatches reported the situation in Thrace to be becoming more acute. Although the Turkish Government recently announced the removal of Vice-Prefect Tyroloi, it was stated that Tyroloi was still in office and that persecution of Christians was continuing.

FOREMAN DROWNED.

Vancouver, Aug. 12.—Falling between the logs of a boom at Myrtle Point, Charles C. Storrick, a foreman for Blodel, Stewart and Welch, was drowned on Saturday. Nobody was near at the time of the accident, or saw what occurred, but Storrick's watch, which he had tied to the boom-stick, was found and indicated the nature of the occurrence.

The watch was one which had been presented to him by students at the University of Pennsylvania, where he formerly was a professor. The body was brought to town by Frank Byles, manager of the company.

PROFITEER BILL IN BRITAIN ADVANCED

Measure Introduced by Government Is Given Second Reading

London, Aug. 12.—The House, after hearing Sir Auckland Geddes, Minister of National Service and Reconstruction, declare that profiteering in foodstuffs was responsible for social unrest and discontent, passed last night the second reading of the Government bill providing for prosecution and penalties for persons guilty of profiteering. The bill was supported on second reading by the Labor Party and the vote on passage was 251 to 8.

Sir Auckland, who is in charge of the bill for the Government said the measure would have a bad effect upon profiteering. A manufacturer in Northern England had told him he was "ashamed" of the profits he was making. He added that shoes which sold at wholesale at from fifteen to twenty-five shillings retailed at fifty and sixty shillings.

Sir Auckland explained that the Government had rejected the idea of internal control of trade and also the idea suggested in the United States of stamping goods with factory prices and establishing a system of fixing prices. He admitted that the Government had no alternative but to confess it was powerless under the laws as they stand at present.

Sir Auckland declared that the pending bill had not been hastily introduced, but had been long and carefully considered.

The bill is now in the hands of the committee of the whole preparatory to being brought up on final passage.

The profiteering bill before the House of Commons provides for the establishment of a central authority to deal with those speculating in the necessaries of life. Local and country tribunals would be empowered to inflict penalties up to £200 or six months' imprisonment. The bill would apply to England, Scotland and Wales, but not to Ireland.

ARMY BLANKETS SOLD TO PUBLIC

United States Government Offers 2,000,000 Pairs at Moderate Prices

Washington, Aug. 12.—The War Department is offering to the people of the United States 2,000,000 surplus all-wool, cotton-and-wool and cotton blankets, arrangements having been completed for their distribution through post office and municipal channels on the same plan as that adopted for foodstuffs.

For individual purchasers, prices will be $6 for new wool blankets and $5 for reclaimed wool; $5 for new cotton mixed and $3.50 for reclaimed; $3 for new cotton and $1.25 for reclaimed cotton. The reclaimed blankets, it is explained, are blankets used less than a year which have been renovated and put through laundries.

Europes' importations of food from the United States, particularly that purchased with the $100,000,000 fund which President Wilson said was necessary to stop the westward spread of Bolshevism, yesterday drew the fire of Senator Myers, who declared people abroad were buying American products more cheaply than they could be purchased at home.

From Packing Plants

Attorney-General Palmer yesterday made a request of Secretary Houston that inspectors of packing houses be instructed to furnish to district attorneys upon request any information that they might have.

APPEAL TO AMERICAN PEOPLE ON SHANTUNG

Pittsburg, Aug. 12.—The Chinese Nationalist League, in session here yesterday adopted a resolution appealing to President Wilson and the American people to prevent the transfer of Kiao Chau and the economic rights in the province of Shantung by the Peace Conference to Japan.

TELLS DYSPEPTICS WHAT TO EAT

Avoid Indigestion, Sour Acid Stomach, Heartburn, Gas On Stomach, Etc.

Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble, say medical authorities, are due nine times out of ten to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. Chronic "acid stomach" is exceedingly dangerous and sufferers should do either one of two things.

Either they can go on a limited and often disagreeable diet, avoiding foods that disagree with them, that irritate the stomach and lead to excess acid secretion or they can eat as they please in reason and make it a practice to counteract the effect of the harmful acid and prevent the formation of gas, sourness or premature fermentation by the use of a little Bisurated Magnesia at their meals.

There is probably no better, safer or more reliable stomach antiacid than Bisurated Magnesia and it is widely used for this purpose. It has no direct action on the stomach and is not a digestent. But a teaspoonful of the powder or a couple of five-grain tablets taken in a little water with the food will neutralize the excess acidity which may be present and prevent its further formation. This removes the whole cause of the trouble and the meal digests naturally and healthfully without need of pepsin pills or artificial digestents.

Get a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia from any reliable druggist. Ask for either powder or tablets. It never comes as a liquid, milk or citrate, and in the bisurated form is not a laxative. Try this plan and eat what you want at your next meal and see if this isn't the best advice you ever had on "what to eat."

RUMOR DECLARES LENINE WILL QUIT

Chief Russian Bolshevik Said to Be About to Drop Out

Copenhagen, Aug. 11.—Via London, Aug. 12.—Premier Lenine, it is rumored, intends to retire from the head of the Russian Bolshevik Government, according to dispatches from Helsingfors quoting Russian reports.

Pending his actual withdrawal, Premier Lenine is reported to have instructed Krassin, Minister of Railroads, to try to reach some understanding with the Menshiviki, the moderate opposition party.

Strikes are reported to be raging in Bolshevik controlled territory. One hundred and fifty strike leaders are said to have been executed.

The strikes, which have been growing violent, are spreading in spite of the Government's intervention.

In South Russia.

London, Aug. 12.—Only about fifty miles of the Black Sea coast remains in the hands of the Bolsheviki, the Russian volunteer army having advanced south and west of Kharkov and occupied Ochankov, forty-one miles east-northeast of Odessa, according to a report issued by the War Office here last evening.

"On the Astrakhan front the volunteers are advancing and regaining the ground lost a few weeks ago," the statement said. A thousand enemy deserters have joined the volunteers.

"On the Volga front the Urbach-Astrakhan railroad has been torn up, the defences destroyed and many prisoners taken. Threequarters of the Kamishin-Ballashov railroad is in the hands of the volunteers, but Bolshevik counter attacks have been successful near Kloan."

Minsk.

Polish forces entered Finsk, capital of the Russian province of the same name, last Friday, after a fortnight of heavy fighting, according to an official statement issued here last evening.

The Bolsheviki, despite strong counter-attacks, were unable to arrest Polish converging movements on the city of Lida, on the west, and Vileika, on the north.

The Polish offensive north of the Pinsk marsh belt also is progressing favorably, the statement added.

KOLCHAK FORCES ARE LOSING FIGHT

Lacking Supplies From Allies, They Are Retiring Before Bolsheviki

Washington, Aug. 12. — Complete collapse of the Kolchak movement in Siberia was forecasted in reports which reached Washington yesterday afternoon. The Kolchak forces have fallen bask almost 200 miles from their former advanced lines and Omsk is said to be threatened with evacuation.

Failure of the Allied and Associated Governments to get adequate supplies to Admiral Kolchak, the advices said, had forced him to fall back steadily before the greatly superior Bolshevik forces, composed of veterans whose officers include many Germans who fled to Russia when the armistice was signed.

Officials here are known to regard Kolchak's efforts at an end unless most radical measures are adopted by outside Governments, and it was suggested that the President might call the attention of Congress to the imminence of Bolshevik control of all Siberia.

Allied Forces

The American force already in Siberia is far from the Kolchak-Bolshevik line. It was placed there for the announced purpose of guarding supplies at Vladivostok and the protection of the Trans-Siberian Railroad. The status of the British force was quite different, for the mission of that army was to establish a line of communication with Admiral Kolchak's army, making possible the use of Archangel as a base of supplies. It has failed. The stretch between Archangel and Admiral Kolchak has increased until it is now apparent that little hope remains of Kolchak recovering unless much larger forces are sent to his support.

Supplies

The supplies the French and British have succeeded in getting through have been almost negligible, and Japan, because of the distance and her condition, has not been able to contribute even a small part.

The probable withdrawal of the volunteer force before winter is considered officially here as due to the desire of the Government not to add to the already serious disturbance of political conditions at home.

DOMINION TRUST CREDITORS TO SHARE IN $20,000 BOND

Vancouver, Aug. 12.—All creditors of the Dominion Trust Company will share in the $20,000 which has been held by the Minister of Finance as the proceeds of the Railway Passengers' Assurance Company bond. Mr. Justice Murphy has ordered the $20,000 to be paid into the general assets of the estate for administration by the liquidator.

Under this order all those entitled to share in the ultimate distribution of the assets will have a part in the $20,000. The matter has been arranged by consent, although the Government hitherto has refrained from paying over the amount.

Several courses had been suggested in regard to this money. At one time there was the proposal of a special bill being passed to dispose of this money in the interest of the depositors.

It also was contended that the money should be used only for creditors in British Columbia, but the liquidators refused to accept the fund on this condition.

SHUBERTS SUING NUMEROUS ACTORS

$500,000 Strike Damages Asked From Nearly 300 Stars in States

New York, Aug. 12.—Suits for damages of $500,000 alleged to have resulted from the strike called by the Actors' Equity Association were filed by the New York Winter Garden Company (the Shuberts) in the United States District Court here late yesterday against nearly 300 of the country's most prominent stage and screen stars.

The complaint, which charges the actors with conspiracy, follows the general line of the famous Danbury Hatters' case, in which the hatter members of a labor union were sued successfully for $220,000 and many of the workmen lost their homes through attachments to satisfy the judgments.

The Producing Managers' Protective Association, in announcing filing of the suits, asserted efforts would be made to attach bank accounts and property of the defendants unless bonds were posted to cover the amount of damages sought.

The screen stars were named as defendants, it was explained, on precedent set in the Danbury Hatters' case, where it was held by the court that individual members of a labor organization are responsible for the acts of its officers, although the members may have no connection with the case at issue.

Persons Sued.

Among the actors named as defendants are Sam Bernard, Eddie Foy, Francis X. Bushman, Richard Carle, Douglas Fairbanks, William Courtenay, William S. Hart, Laurette Taylor, Sir J. Forbes-Robertson, Cyril Maude, Robert Edeson, Blanche Ring, William Farnum, Dustin Farnum, Elsie Ferguson, Trixie Friganza, DeWolf Hopper, Wilton Lackaye, Frank McIntyre, Andrew Mack, J. Hartley Manners, Robert Mantell, Alla Nazimova, Guy Bates Post; Tyrone Power, Julius Tannen, Fred Stone, Otis Skinner, Julia Sanders, Julien Eltinge, Leo Ditrichstein and William B. Mack.

Frank Gilmore, Secretary of the Actors' Equity Association, declared the actors involved were "not worrying about the suit," which he characterized as "ridiculous."

With ten leading theatres still "dark" last night, both sides claimed gains.

REORGANIZATION OF LUCKY JIM MINES

Nelson, B. C., Aug. 12.—Foreclosure proceedings will be taken immediately against the Lucky Jim Zinc Mines, Ltd., owners of the famous Lucky Jim mine on Bear Lake, in the Slocan district, and a reorganization of the compay will follow, with a view to restoring the country's premier zinc producer to the list of active mines, according to Senator Lendrum McMeans, of Winnipeg, who is en route to Victoria to start proceedings. Under A. G. Larson as trustee, the Lucky Jim produced $200,000, the profit paying off a first mortgage, lifting a floating debt and making a start on the second mortgage of $35,000, on which the present action is based. When Senator McMeans, as trustee for the mortgagees, obtains the property, he will put his interest in the mortgage into the new company, which Secretary A. W. Allen will undertake to form and the co-operation of all the former shareholders will be sought.

TWO U. S. AVIATORS MISSING IN MEXICO

Marfa, Texas, Aug. 12.—Two United States army aviators in a plane from El Paso are supposed to be lost in Mexico. While on patrol along the Rio Grande near Presidio, Texas, they are supposed to have mistaken the Rio Concho, which is in flood, for the Rio Grande and passed into Mexico. Several planes sent to search for the men returned without finding any trace of them.

The aviators are Lieutenants Peterson and Davis.

FIFTEEN EXECUTED

El Paso, Tex., Aug. 12.—Fifteen leaders of a conspiracy to cause a mutiny in the Chihuahua City federal garrison last week and to deliver the city over the General Francisco Villa were executed following the discovery of the plot, according to an American who has arrived here.

VALUABLE BERRY CROP.

Creston, Aug. 12.—Official returns from the organized selling agencies, to which have been added the customary percentage to take care of a very limited independent selling, indicate that this year Creston Valley has exported in the usual way not less than 13,000 crates of strawberries and has shipped well over another 2,000 crates to the Nelson jam factory. As yet collections are not complete on the crop, but it is estimated that from its strawberry crop alone the valley will this year have a revenue of not less than $55,000, or an amount within two thousand dollars of the value of the total crop of the field and orchard in the same district for the year 1914, according to the annual trade statement compiled by the local board of trade.

AUSTRALIA'S NAVAL POLICY.

A dispatch from Sydney, Australia, says "it is believed Admiral Viscount Jellicoe's report on the naval defence of Australia will be of the frankest nature, demanding that the Commonwealth recognize the fullest obligations of the Empire and condemning its past policy." It adds "in future Australia will take her important part in a deeply-considered Imperial scheme in which the Commonwealth will be allotted the duty of preserving the interests of the Empire in the southern Pacific."

The dispatch is not very clear, particularly the part which says the Jellicoe report will demand that Australia recognize "the fullest obligations of the Empire." The general impression is that this precisely is what Australia has been doing in regard to naval defence with conspicuous zeal and success. Her naval policy was the product of an agreement with the British Admiralty in 1909 to which, by the way, Canada, with certain modifications, also subscribed.

This was recommended by the Admiralty and, besides, conformed absolutely to the Australian idea of what the Commonwealth policy should be. The fact that the Admiralty under other auspices changed its mind, and that Mr. Churchill afterwards declared that in a war the Australian Navy would serve no useful purpose and sought to have a cash contribution substituted for it, did not alter the Australian point of view or the Australian determination to proceed with the original programme.

It is fortunate for Australia, and for the Empire as well, that the Churchill view did not prevail. The war had not been in progress more than a few months before the policy based upon the agreement of 1909 was strikingly vindicated. Everybody knows that if it had not been for the Australian Navy every important port of the Commonwealth and New Zealand would have been laid in ruins by von Spee's squadron, the German islands in the southern Pacific, instead of falling into British hands in the first few weeks of the war, would have remained German bases for an indefinite period and trans-Pacific commerce would have been paralyzed for many months. Nor will it ever be forgotten that it was the Australian cruiser Sydney which put an end to the very damaging depredations of the Emden in one of the most thrilling duels of the war at sea. A change of Australian policy in deference to the Churchill view of 1913 would have deprived the Empire of these vitally important services and substituted nothing for them as far as the southern Pacific was concerned.

In the light of this record, therefore, it is difficult to see wherein the Australian naval policy has failed to recognize the fullest obligations of the Empire. We doubt very much if Lord Jellicoe's report will criticize it under that head. If there is any criticism, as the dispatch from Sydney predicts there will be, it probably will be in respect of the question of control. Australia's naval law requires that the Commonwealth Navy shall be under the control of the Commonwealth Government but makes provision for its transfer to the control of the Admiralty in time of emergency.

We question if Australia will abandon that part of its policy, notwithstanding criticism from even so distinguished a sailor as the late commander-in-chief of the Grand Fleet, for it involves other things than the technical development of naval defence or strategy. It raises problems which must be considered from the viewpoint of civil statesmanship as well as from the purely naval point of view. The army and navy in democratic countries have been, and must remain, subordinate to our civil institutions. They are subject to the will of the people as represented in Parliament, not to the will of Admiralties and naval departments. Self-governing Dominions which develop their own navies are bound to control them, although in time of war they form part of one organized direction under unified command. The alternative to that involves the bigger question of inter-Imperial relations affecting much more than naval and military defence.

"PRISON FOR THE PROFITEER."

Nearly every element of society in Great Britain is affected by the present crisis and doubtless wonders what is coming next. Nevertheless, the majority will take a complacent view of the gaping cracks in the industrial structure and rebuild promptly if it can be demonstrated that the Government intends to deal effectively with the prime causes of unrest. No amount of political platitude will rid the people of its general realization of how high prices accentuate dangerous industrial turmoil, and the Government's attitude towards its most vital problem should do much to restore conditions to a more normal state.

In the proposals to deal with profiteering a central tribunal under the judicial leadership will tackle British trusts and combines, discovering the actual cost of articles produced by those trusts in order to fix prices at which goods are to be sold. It is pointed out, however, that nothing short of international action can hope to reach the sources of profiteering in British beef, bacon and leather supplies, because it would be impossible to call for evidence respecting the cost of producing cattle in Central America and meat packing in Chicago. This is quite true. At the same time the British Government should be able to negotiate some sort of a working programme with the United States, judging by the attitude towards the cost of living demonstrated by President Wilson's more recent announcements.

Another branch of Government activity will comprehend the practice of charging unreasonable prices for uncontrolled articles. In this manner perhaps the speediest mode of relief will be effected because the Bill will empower the appointment of new representative local tribunals selected by municipalities throughout the country. It will be within their scope to hear charges of the more obvious kind of profiteering and impose appropriate penalties.

Quite naturally the measure is coming in for a good deal of criticism, largely because it appears to constitute an innovation in criminal jurisdiction without providing a guarantee against malice or persecution arising from local jealousy and rival interests. It would not be difficult, of course, to trace a certain volume of inspired criticism; but the fact remains that unless the Government steps in and deals with the question, all profiteering opportunities will be removed by action of an entirely different kind. It may be a multi-named innovation and its effect may be far-reaching, but it goes without saying, however, that intervention of this kind has not come too soon in Britain.

HAECKEL'S BREAK.

Professor Ernest Haeckel, the celebrated German biologist who died a few days ago, was one of the signatories to a grotesque document on the war which was issued by some ninety leading German professors and literary luminaries about four years ago. The fact that so eminent a man as Haeckel permitted his name to be attached to such a compilation of frenzied nonsense showed at the time how deeply the poison of Prussian militarism had penetrated into Germany's intellectual life. In his own particular sphere he had no superior anywhere, while his literary works were regarded as among the ablest productions of the age. We wonder how many times since then has Haeckel regretted the folly which prompted him to subscribe to the mass of distortion, puerile malice and sophistry which appeared over his name.

According to a Melbourne dispatch the Premier of Western Australia foreshadows settlement of British soldiers and their families on a wholesale scale. He has been notified by the Agent-General of his Government in London that arrangements have been entered into with the Imperial authorities to settle 12,000 British soldiers and their dependents in Western Australia. The Antipodean Commonwealth has long ago set the pace in repatriation programmes, and this announcement looks as if she has so far disposed of her own problems in this connection as to be able to lend a hand to the Motherland.

If the Foundation Company has demonstrated anything to the people of this city it is the ability to go after business and, having obtained the business, it has shown exactly how orders should be executed. For that and other reasons it is to be hoped that the spirit infused into the community by the people across the harbor will remain, with additional contracts. "We go after contracts," is the company's motto, and Victorians, generally, will hope that the company's official, now on his way to France, will land other orders for the local yards.

HOW TO TREAT A BURGLAR.

(Philadelphia Press.)

A masked burglar was shot and killed early Monday morning by Professor Benjamin Franklin Schappelle, of the University of Pennsylvania. We have been waiting for this. Burglars are not sneak thieves or pickpockets. They are men of determined purpose who enter dwelling-houses at night, intent on robbery, but prepared and willing to kill anyone who interferes with them. They are not often interfered with. If any shooting is done, it is usually done by the burglar. A sleeping household is generally non-combatant, and never more so than when suddenly awakened by the movements of a burglar. If burglary was not so safe there would not be so many invasions of homes by armed robbers under cover of night. This university professor has demonstrated that burglary is not always safe for the burglar. He has discouraged that pursuit. He has made every home in Philadelphia a little safer. He has set an example that, if followed generally, would soon put an end to burglary in this city. A man has a right to defend himself, his family and his home from midnight marauders, and if he bravely and successfully exercises that right he deserves a monument in his honor.

SPECULATORS PROTECTED.

(Regina Leader.)

While the Government was not prepared prior to seeding to guarantee a minimum price for 1919 wheat, and thus protect the farmer from loss and provide encouragement to increased production it is now prepared to give such a guarantee to protect the banks who finance the purchase of the wheat and the speculators who buy and sell it, from loss which might result to them from too violent fluctuations in price. It is stated with truth that the fixing of such a minimum price will be "a guarantee to dealers, bankers and others interested in the crop movement." But it was impossible and outrageous to provide any guarantee whatever for the farmers who took all the chances in growing the wheat, and the farmer was accused of being utterly selfish and most unpatriotic in even asking for such a guarantee.

LODGE OPPOSES LEAGUE COVENANT

American Senate Hears Views of Foreign Relations Committee Chairman

Washington, Aug. 12.—Describing the League of Nations as an "experiment upon a noble purpose," Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee and Republic leader in the Senate, declared in a Senate speech to-day that there were features of the League covenant which, "as an American," he could never accept.

Creating not a league of peace but an alliance embracing many "provisions for war," the covenant, he asserted, would kill the "Monroe Doctrine, nullify any possibility of a withdrawal from membership, impair the sovereign power of deciding domestic questions and "plunge the United States into every controversy and conflict on the face of the globe."

Leading Strings.

"I am as anxious as any human being can be to have the United States render every possible service to the civilization and the peace of mankind," he said, "but I am certain we can do it best by not putting ourselves in leading strings or subjecting our policies and our sovereignty to other nations.

"I can never be anything else but an American, and I must think of the United States first, and when I think of the United States first in an arrangement like this I am thinking of what is best for the world, for if the United States fails the best hopes of mankind fail with it.

A Combination.

Washington, Aug. 12.—The plan for a League of Nations used as a basis of discussion at Versailles was not any of the drafts submitted by the United States, Great Britain, France or Italy, but was a combination of all of them, the Senate Foreign Relations Committee was told to-day by David Hunter Miller, legal adviser to the League of Nations Commission at Versailles.

Chairman Lodge said President Wilson had told the Committee at the White House in March that the British plan drawn by General Smuts had been used as a basis of consideration, but the witness protested that such was not his recollection. The witness said he had submitted memoranda on the American plan, but did not see the finished product until it was printed in the form transmitted to the Committee yesterday by President Wilson.

"Where did the plan come from?" asked Senator Lodge.

"I suppose it came from the President," was the reply.

"What became of it?"

"I think it was submitted to the Commission on the League of Nations. I did not personally have anything to do with it."

A MOONEY MEETING IN MONTREAL CITY

Montreal, Aug. 12.—A meeting has been called for to-night by the Montreal Trades and Labor Council to protest against the continued imprisonment in the United States of Tom Mooney and Warren K. Billings, who were convicted in connection with a bomb explosion during a Preparedness Day parade in San Francisco in 1916. Five men were originally arrested in this case and three have since gained their freedom. The only speaker of the evening will be John Mooney, brother of Tom Mooney, who will lay facts of the case before the audience.

TRANS-PYRENEAN RAILROAD LINK

Paris, Aug. 12.—The first section of the Trans-Pyrenean Railroad between Ripoll and Ribas, about five miles south of the Franco-Spanish border, was inaugurated yesterday. The ceremony was attended by Francisco Cambo, former Minister of Public Works, and Senor Cayera, representing the Spanish Ministry of Development, and Emmanual Brousse, a French Deputy.

USED AEROPLANE IN MOSQUITO FIGHT

Chilliwack, Aug. 12.—Eric Hearle, Government entomologist in charge of the mosquito survey, made an interesting experiment in Chilliwack on Saturday when, with Lieut. Trim, he made an aerial survey of mosquito breeding areas over Chilliwack, Nicomen Island and Sumas. He took with him a large map upon which he marked the breeding spots and is enthusiastic over the success of the trip. He declares that he accomplished in ten minutes what might otherwise have taken weeks to complete. He has tried to make surveys from tops of mountains, but could not touch the accuracy of the aerial inspection.

Mr. Hearle states that he has found fifteen species of mosquito in this district. Only two of these are dangerous, however.

WEB FEET.

"I heard him call you 'Duckie!'" announced the small brother.

"Well, what of it?" demanded his sister, defiantly.

"Oh, nothin' much," answered the small brother. "I was only thinkin' maybe it's because of the way you walk, but it ain't very nice of him."

CITY HAS NO POWER TO CREATE CLINIC

City Solicitor Tells Council School Act Does Not Give Trustees Legal Right

The School Board has no legal power to establish a dental clinic in connection with the schools, and in accordance with a plan which has received strong support among the Trustees of late. This is the summary of a report handed to the City Council last night by City Solicitor Hannington.

"In my opinion," wrote Mr. Hannington, "the School Act does not make any provision whatever for the establishment of a dental clinic, or for any expenditure such as would be involved thereby. I cannot help thinking that if provision for the engagement of a dental specialist at the public expense is to be inferred from the statute, the same inference would lie in the case of every specialist, such as oculists, aurists, osteopaths, or any other branch of medical practice, and that the School Trustees would be at liberty to set up a complete staff of medical specialists for the free treatment of school children requiring their special services, all of whom would be paid by the city. In my opinion the Statute as it now stands is not reasonably susceptible of any such inference or interpretation, and much more express terms would be required to confer such a power on the School Trustees either in relation to a dental clinic or other medical clinic for free treatment of school children."

SAYS PEACE ARCH WILL BE EYE SORE

Max Enke Declares It Obstructs Road and Is Not a Thing of Beauty

That the Peace Arch obstructs a considerable part of the roadway on Belleville Street, and that it will become in time "nothing more than a miserable eye sore" are the statements of Max Enke from whom a letter was received by the City Council last night.

The arch, Mr. Enke reminded the aldermen, took up eighteen feet of the forty-foot roadway, or almost half the thoroughfare. It was therefore a menace to traffic, and if accidents occurred on account of its position the city probably would be liable for damages. Moreover, as it stood at a considerable distance from the boat wharf its welcome to visitors would be a rather "belated" sort. Covered with "cheap stucco" the arch could never be regarded as a "thing of beauty," wrote Mr. Enke, "especially as with the Parliament Buildings close at hand." When the plaster began to crack, the Council's correspondent added, the arch would be "nothing more than a miserable eye sore, and a poor advertisement for the town."

The letter was received and filed, the Council deciding to take no further action on the question.

HAS THE FACTS.

To the Editor: With reference to letter in your issue of yesterday, regarding Brigadier-General V. W. Odlum, if your correspondent will reveal his identity, I shall be glad to give him the facts regarding the case.

B. M. HUMBLE.

FROM GENERAL ODLUM.

To the Editor.—In your issue of yesterday an anonymous correspondent wrote making reference to me. Customarily one would not pay attention to anonymous writers, but on this occasion I think it is due to him (whoever he may be) and to any of his comrades who are under a similar misapprehension to give them the facts. First, it is true that two years ago I was appointed Collector of Customs at Vancouver, but I then refused the position and still do. I have never drawn a cent of salary from that appointment and never will. In the second place, the credit of the first raid carried out by the 7th Battalion in France in the fall of 1915 is not due to any one person, but to many. The officers to whom particular credit should be given were: Capt. J. C. Thomas, of New Westminster; Lieut. W. D. Holmes, of Victoria; Lieut. Wrightson, of Vancouver; Lieut. McIlree, of Regina; Capt. Costigan, of Calgary, and Lieut. H. Owen, of Vancouver. Lieut. Owen's work was done in the preparatory reconnaisance stage. In addition to these officers, the N. C. O.'s and men who participated made many suggestions during the work of training, which were adopted. The raid stands to the credit of the 7th Battalion—not to that of any one individual.

BANK CLERKS OF HAMBURG, GERMANY, ARE ON STRIKE NOW

Hamburg, Aug. 12. — (Associated Press)—The bank clerks of Hamburg and Altoona have gone on strike, causing all the banks to close. The bank employees voted 5,500 to 300 to strike. The Berlin Bank Association made a proposal of mediation, which was refused. It is anticipated that the banks will attempt to carry on most urgent business, but it is admitted that Hamburg faces an extraordinarily severe conflict.

ONE ON MOTHER.

Little Tommy has a great dislike to being washed. The other day his mother was showing him a new clock and remarked meaningly:

"Just look what a nice, clean face the clock has, Tommy!"

"Yes," answered the child triumphantly: "but it's got black hands, though!"

HIGH COST OF SERVANTS.

Caller: "What a beautiful baby! And what is its name?"

Young Mother: "Bridget Mary Ann De Vere."

Caller: "Mercy sakes! How did you happen to give it a name like that?"

Young Mother: "Why, the cook threatened to leave when baby came, and we got her to stay by naming the baby after her."

REALTY MEN WILL DISCUSS REGULATION

Object to Ruling Respecting Returned Soldier's Transactions

To prepare plans for laying a formal protest against exclusion of real estate men from transacting business where soldier settlement is concerned, the Victoria Real Estate Exchange will hold a special executive meeting in the Belmont Building at 3.30 o'clock to-morrow afternoon.

Real estate men here have taken very great exception to the ruling provided in the Soldier Settlement Act, 1919, to the effect that land for settlement by returned soldiers must be secured direct from the owner, and passed by the appraiser thus entirely eliminating real estate men from any connection with such transactions.

It was pointed out by one prominent realty dealer here that in many cases owners had left their property in the hands of their agents for administration and sale; that real estate men were really more conversant with the land situation, and were in a better position to assist settlers than anyone else; that it was leaving too much to the appraiser to deal entirely with such matters; and that the regulation was an insult to reputable business men of the country whose business it was to handle real estate.

"We are licensed dealers. We are entitled to the right to carry on our legitimate business in our own district, and we are going to put up a strong appeal for justice in this matter," said the realty man in question.

$20,000 LOSS IN VANCOUVER FIRES

Vancouver, Aug. 12.—Damage estimated at $20,000 was caused by the destruction of the Dust Control Company's plant and Kennedy's Sash and Door Factory in the 200 block on Front Street last night and early this morning. The Dust Control plant was completely gutted.

Shortly after 3 o'clock this morning a smouldering fire broke into flames in the sash and door factory and completely destroyed that place despite the efforts of the fire department to save the factory. The Gilson stables in the vicinity also suffered some damage.

A BAD HABIT.

"Titus, you were talking in your sleep last night, and you frequently spoke in terms of endearment to a certain Euphemia. Who is Euphemia?"

"Why, my dear, that was my—my sister's name."

"Titus! your sister's name was Jane."

"Yes, dear: but we called her Euphemia for short!"

Lawyer: "As I understand it, your rich uncle left you his library."

Cuthbert: "Aw, yes, quite so—his library."

Lawyer: "Then, unless he was a practical joker, we can put aside the will on the grounds of insanity."

CIVIL SERVANTS NOT OUT TO ANTAGONIZE

Approve Attitude of Provincial Meeting in Enlisting Government Support

No further step towards affiliating with the Trades and Labor Council was taken at the meeting of the Civil Servants' Association held last night. The sending of delegates to a meeting of the Trades and Labor Council where the affiliation of the association, it was anticipated, would come up for consideration was discussed, but no action was taken.

The Executive was asked to inform the Government that there were cases where male and female civil servants were working as many as twelve and thirteen hours on some days.

Referring to the provincial meetings held at Vancouver members expressed their satisfaction at the attitude taken on the matters which came up for consideration. Every step was taken, it was reported to enlist the sympathy of the Government and not to create antagonism. The one dollar levy asked by the Provincial Association was agreed to. Representation of local branches at provincial meetings would be one per branch, with one additional if the membership reached a hundred, while three delegates could be sent with a representation of over a hundred and portion of the next hundred.

Discussion regarding a bonus, the opinion was expressed that there should be a fixed bonus over the 1914 salary scale, the proposal of a new salary scale being considered by some of the members as not likely to meet requirements of the present day.

LET CITY'S CORPSE REST PEACEFULLY, ADVISES ALDERMAN

Why Not Let Moss Grow on Aldermanic Backs? Asks Alderman Patrick

When it refused to send a delegate to the Union of Canadian Municipalities convention, and also passed up another gathering of nation-wide importance, why should the City Council disturb the moss which is growing on its back by having a delegate at the meeting of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities to be held in North Vancouver September 16 to 18? Why should the Council admit now that Victoria is alive when the aldermen have been trying to bury it?

Such in substance were the sarcastic remarks with which Alderman Patrick last night scored the City Council when it decided to send a delegate to the North Vancouver meeting.

Very Cutting Remarks.

When the invitation to attend the Provincial convention was received Alderman Sargent moved that the Mayor and an Alderman should be appointed as the Council's representatives.

This immediately aroused Alderman Patrick. Why was the Council not consistent? he demanded. Last week, he pointed out, the Council had received an invitation to the convention of the Union of Canadian Municipalities at Kingston. Important questions were to be considered at that meeting, and, in addition, Victoria was under an obligation to the Union, having been the scene of the convention last year. In spite of these facts, the Council would not send a single delegate. Only a few days later the Council determined not to be represented at another convention of nation-wide importance.

Why then, Alderman Patrick queried sarcastically, why did the aldermen want to disturb the moss which already had been allowed to grow on their backs? Why did they want to admit at that late moment that Victoria was alive when they had been trying to bury it?

While the Council listened carefully to Alderman Patrick's remarks it upheld Alderman Sargent's resolution.

A BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily and the Grasshopper

(By Howard R. Garis.)

Uncle Wiggily Longears, the rabbit gentleman, was hopping through the woods one day when he happened to pass a hollow stump, almost like the one that he and Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy used for a bungalow.

Uncle Wiggily heard some one talking inside this hollow stump and at first he thought it might be the Pipsisewah, or the Skeezicks. But when he had listened carefully he knew it was all right, and that he was in no danger.

For he heard a gentle little voice saying:

"Now, Skipie, it is your turn. Let me see how well you have learned your lesson. Come, Skipie, give a nice, long, big jump."

"Oh, I can't, teacher I can't! I'm afraid" was the answer.

"Then, Skipie, you'll have to stay in after school," went on the gentle voice.

"Bless my pink nose" thought Uncle Wiggily. "School this time of year—in August? Why, I thought this was vacation. I wonder who goes to school in vacation?"

He went closer to the hollow stump, and there he saw the lady mouse teacher, whom he knew very well. Sitting in front of her was a grasshopper, a cricket, a katy-did and a little frog boy.

"Good morning, Miss Lady Mouse," said the bunny with a low and polite bow of his tall silk hat. "I did not know you had any school classes these days."

"This is a summer school," answered the mouse teacher. "I only have a few pupils who are taking special lessons. Skipie, the grasshopper girl, wants to learn to leap over dandelions and other flowers. But she has not studied her lesson well, and must stay in."

"And what are the others learning?" Uncle Wiggily wanted to know.

"Well, Chirpie, the little cricket, is learning to sing cheerful songs," answered the lady mouse. "And Greenie, the Katy-did, is learning to call 'Katy-did' or 'Katy-didn't, like her big sisters. Croakie, the frog boy, must learn to say 'Ger-ung! Ger-ung!' before he leaves my class."

"So they are all learning something useful, I see," spoke Uncle Wiggily. "That is very nice. But you say Skipie must stay in after school?"

"Yes, answered the lady mouse. "I told her to study jumping over little low flowers, like violets, at first, and then to practice on dandelions and daisies. After a while she will be able to jump over tall sunflowers. But I am sorry to say Skipie hasn't done well. So she must stay after school. And now school is out for the day, children," went on the lady mouse teacher. "You may all go but Skipie. She must stay in and practice jumping."

"Oh, teacher I'm afraid to jump!" sighed Skipie, the little grasshopper. "I did just as you told me to. I gathered my legs under me, I took a long breath and I stood in front of a violet. But when I said 'one, two, three—jump!' as you told me to, I—I just couldn't seem to get off the ground. I was afraid to jump!"

"That's just it!" said the lady mouse.

mouse. "You must get over being afraid. That's why you come to school—to learn not to be afraid to jump."

The lady mouse teacher let Chirpie, Greenie and Croakie go home, but Skipie had to stay in. She sat at her little desk, made of birch bark, and turned the green leaves of her jumping lesson book.

"Oh, dear! I'll never learn this lesson!" cackled poor Skipie.

"Let me try to teach her, Lady Mouse," whispered Uncle Wiggily, when the grasshopper girl wasn't looking. "You go home, teacher, and let me stay with Skipie. I think I can teach her to take her first big jump. After that all will be easy."

"All right—you try," said the lady mouse. So she went home, leaving the bunny gentleman in charge of the hollow stump Summer School.

Uncle Wiggily didn't say anything to Skipie for some time. He watched her turning the green leaves of her woodland book, and then the rabbit went outside and brought in a clump of violets in a fern basket, which he placed in the middle of the floor.

"Now, Skipie," said Uncle Wiggily, "I'm going outside, and count three. When I say 'Three!' I want you to jump over the violets."

"Oh, but I'm afraid!" cackled Skipie.

"You musn't be!" said the bunny. "Nothing is going to hurt you, and you'll never grow up to be a fine, big grasshopper lady unless you know how to skip. Now get ready."

Uncle Wiggily went outside. Skipie looked at the clump of violents in the fern basket. They seemed very high, but really, they weren't at all.

"One, two, three!" counted Uncle Wiggily.

"Oh, dear! Oh, dear!" cackled Skipie.

Then suddenly she hear Uncle Wiggily shout:

"No! No! You can't go in, Mr. Skeezicks! No indeed you can't have Skipie! She's going to jump, I know she is!"

"Oh, indeed I am! Of course I am!" quickly cackled Skipie. Then, gathering her long, hind legs under her, she straightened them out, gave a spring, and over the bunch of violets she sailed just like an airship.

"Fine! Fine!" cried Uncle Wiggily from the doorway, where he stood, clapping his paws. "I knew you could do it, Skipie! Now you have learned to jump!"

"Is the Skeezicks gone?" asked Skipie.

"O, that was all a mistake," said Uncle Wiggily, twinkling his pink nose. "I thought it was the Skeezicks, but it was only a shadow. But you have learned to jump."

And so Skipie had. And if the wind doesn't blow all the fuzz off the feather duster so that it looks like a hard boiled egg at a picnic, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and Chirpie.

Miss Daisy Greening, who has been a resident at the Goldstream Hotel for the past few years, was the recipient of a "surprise shower" on Friday evening last in honor of her approaching marriage. A mock wedding procession heralded the advent of about twenty of her friends. A diminutive bride and bridegroom, accompanied by the usual attendants and flower girls, were followed by a conveyance artistically decorated with white and pink roses and filled with many beautiful gifts, which were presented to the bride-elect. Music and dancing were indulged in by the merry party and at a late hour delicious refreshments were served in the big dining room. The evening terminated with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne" and a joint expression of felicitation and farewell to Miss Greening, who will make her home in Seattle after her marriage.

POPULAR NURSING SISTER MARRIED

Miss Kathleen E. Tomlinson, Late of Resthaven, Weds Ex--Sergt. G. Douglas

Former Nursing Sister Kathleen Eleanor Tomlinson, daughter of the late Rev. Robert Tomlinson, of Naas River, one of the pioneer missionaries of British Columbia, became the bride of Sergt. George Douglas at a pretty wedding at St. Andrew's Church, Sidney, on Thursday last. The Rev. T. M. Hughes officiated in the presence of a number of friends of the bride and groom. The bride, who was given away by F. F. Forneri, was attended by Miss Irene O'Neill as bridesmaid, while the groom was supported by Mason C. Sands, of Victoria. After a reception and wedding breakfast at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Forneri, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas left for Errington, B.C., where they will make their future home.

The bride is well-known in Victoria; one of the first nurses to be accepted for No. 5 Hospital Unit, she left early in 1915 for Salonica, remaining with the unit until its transfer to Liverpool, where she was stationed at No. 5 General Hospital. Returning home nearly twelve months ago, she has since been on duty at Resthaven Convalescent Hospital, where she was one of the most popular members of the staff. The bridegroom was one of the first men to leave Victoria for the front, going overseas in 1914.

FRENCH TARIFF RULES.

As a result of the French decree of July 8, abrogating that of June 14 relating to ad valorem surtaxes on imports, increases in French protective duties will range as high as 200 per cent. The decree of July 8 establishes for each article an advance in the tariff rate representing the percentage increase in value of the goods from 1913 to 1918. A periodic revision of the duties, based on the difference between prevailing prices and those obtaining before the war, will be made by an interministerial commission which has yet to be named. Under the new arrangement, French import duties will be specific in form, except for a few products subject to ad valorem duties previously.

U. S. FOREIGN CREDIT

The Chairman of the Senate Banking Committee of the United States Congress has made a favorable report on the bill of Senator Edge, providing for organization of American corporations to extned credit to foreign countries for purchases in the Uunited States. The bill proposes not only to give such corporations the right to exercise ordinary functions but also allows them to advance money to foreign purchasers on security. In financial circles the proposal, acording to The Wall Street Journal, is regarded in a large measure as meeting the difficulties of financing export business. A bill has also passed the Senate giving national banks of the United States the right to invest up to five per cent. of their paid-in capital and surplus, until January 1, 1921, in such corporations.

KING OF GREECE AND AMERICAN GIRL

Romance has touched in democratic fashion the heart of young King Alexander of Greece, according to a long report which the Chicago Tribune publishes from Athens.

The young monarch, who succeeded his deposed father Constantine, is said to show open admiration for a young Irish-American girl from Chicago, called Miss Josephine Kelly, whose uncle is a New York hotel proprietor. Miss Kelly went to Greece last November with the American Red Cross, and is described as very attractive, with blue eyes and coal-black hair. In social and sporting accomplishments she is of all-round efficiency.

The King is said to have met her while having tea at the house of one of the members of his Court. She and her friends were shortly afterwards asked to luncheon at the Royal country house at Tatoi, near Athens. Motoring excursions to picturesque and historical places followed.

Finally, says The Tribune correspondent, at a ball given at the Royal Theatre the King left the corner of the room where he was receiving the respects of the Court and crossed the floor to talk with Miss Kelly—a break with regular royal procedure which caused astonishment. This rose to still greater heights when he asked Miss Kelly to join the royal party in a box at a masked ball.

Speculation is said to be active as to whether King Alexander, whose impatience with monarchial restrictions is well known, may be about to offer to share his throne with an American girl.

DOMINION

Distinguished Rex Beach, the peer of American authors, has proved himself perhaps the most versatile in his latest production, "The Crimson Gardenia," which is showing at the Dominion theatre. Regionalism has never been his drawback. He has written with equal aptitude of Alaska, of the war zone, of the desert. And at length in his latest play he has epitomized the Latin Quarter of quaint New Orleans, where the civilization is as old as the days when France was an empire and the United States comprised a handful of struggling colonies.

In "The Crimson Gardenia," which was produced for Goldwyn, Mr. Beach has depicted with equal skill the Mardi Gras, the semi-creole customs, the suavity of the Louisiana French, with as great facility as he brought forth the Alaskan miners, the trail runners of the great white North in "The Spoilers." In "The Auction Block" he wrote forcefully of Metropolitan life with its carnival of laughter and tears, its byways paved with broken hearts and its halls of fame; in "Too Fat To Fight" of the smugness of New York's "inner shrine" of exclusiveness, and of the great battleground of the world war. And at length in "The Crimson Gardenia" he brought forth vividly a people not unlike the Parisian Apaches in temperament and environment.

Mr. Beach was at ease on the Rio Grande in "Heart of the Sunset," picturing graphically the never-to-be-forgotten life of the range, the glowing sunsets of the great Southwest and a people primitive in many respects. And in "The Brand" he immortalized Alaska, showing a hitherto unshown phase of the Great Human Comedy by contrasting a typical sourdough with two stranded vaudevillians.

"The Crimson Gardenia," however, is his climax. He has made to live the ideals of the creoles with their almost medieval trend, painting his characters with a skilled brush. His Madelon Dorette, the heroine of the play, is a piquant Parisienne, a stranger to America who typifies the spirit of France. On the other hand he has written Roland Van Dam as the typical blase New Yorker, faultlessly atired, a bit weary, a bit cynical, yet delightfully facinating.

He gives a peep at the underworld in his play, another at the far-famed Mardi Gras, and focuses the eye of the camera on to the quaint, old-world curiosity shop of Papa La Forge. In this, as in his other works, Rex Beach delinates life with a swift, sure pen.

Mitchell Lewis is a star because he wanted to be a star. From very early childhood the stage always had a certain attraction for Mr. Lewis. His father had an office in a building in Syracuse where a certain theatrical company used to hold their rehearsals. Mr. Lewis, who was then fondly known as "Mitch" used to hang around and watch the rehearsals. He thought it would be rather nice to be an actor. Witness the birth of the stage "bug," a peculiar bug which zoologists have not yet placed into any particular class.

He got his first job as an "Indian Brownie" with "Palmer Cox's Brownies." But he grew so fast that he played the part of the giant before the show closed. Later he played with Faversham for three years in "The Two Orphans;" "The Squaw Man" with Fred Terry in England; "The Nigger," and with Nazimova in "'Ception Shoals."

Mr. Lewis made his first screen appearance with the Rex Company. Later he joined Thanhauser and appeared in "The Million Dollar Mystery." He played with the late Harold Lockwood in his first Metro Picture, "The Comeback." He starred in the screen version of "Stop Thief" and played opposite Viola Dana in "The Flower of No-Man's Land."

Mr. Lewis will be remembered as the lead in "The Barrier," "The Bar Sinister," The Sign Invisible," "Nine Tenths of the Law," and "Safe for Democracy." As Jean Dubois in "Code of the Yukon" which will be the attraction at the Royal Victoria again today, he is superb and there is no doubt that this picture will go down in film history.

VARIETY

Edwin Milton Royle's "The Unwritten Law," featured at the Variety this week, has been developed in all its episodes and made into a motion picture drama in which the "problem" is rendered of secondary interest to the plot and in which the three principals are not so much types for play manipulation as they are flesh-and-blood human beings who live, rejoice, suffer and experience the mutulations to which all flesh is heir. The fashion of the modern play to denote life as a hopeless, meaningless existence is boldly denied in "The Unwritten Law" in favor of the assumption that men and women may learn from their own mistakes and that hope need never depart utterly from the breasts of those who retain love. The abyss to which Kate and John descend has a top as well as a bottom. They reach the lowest depths, but even there the daylight is visible and accessible. Another peculiarly effective element in the picture is the truthfulness exposed in the treatment of the three principal characters. The picture in short, tells the truth about us; but it tells it in a way to encourage hope, enlist sympathy and inspire higher and better ideals.

COLUMBIA

Why should a famous physician suddenly sacrifice friends, fame and fortune—disappear to hide his head in shame from his fellow practitioners? What reasons are powerful enough to cause him to thus give up the benefits that came as the result of a lifetime's endeavor?

"The Doctor and the Woman," the Jewel adaptation of Mary Roberts Rhinehart's powerful novel "K," tells the story of this physician's predicament. Photoplay patrons who attend the Columbia will have the opportunity of seeing it when the management of that theatre present it to-day and to-morrow.

Of special interest is the fact that "The Doctor and the Woman" was directed by Lois Weber, whose recent production, "The Price of a Good Time," created such a sensation in this community. True Boardman appears as co-star with Miss Harris, enacting the role of "K LeMoyne," the physician who seeks to hide himself from his fellowmen.

Before taking certain steps consult a dancing master.

ROMANO

"The Unveiling Hand" is the title of the new World Picture starring Kitty Gordon which opened the Romano yesterday. The story was written by Mann Page and is declared to give Miss Gordon one of the best opportunities of her career. She is seen in the role of Margaret Ellis, daughter of a college professor, who marries him because she feels it is her duty to do so and who goes with him on an exploring expedition to Africa. Remarkable things occur on this expedition and as the result of the expedition, and the whole story is entertainingly told in this production. "The Unveiling Hand" moves speedily and logically to a smashing climax. Supporting Miss Gordon is a notably excellent company, including such film favorites as Irving Cummings, George MacQuarrie and Anthony Merlo.

"The Unveiling Hand is an unusual drama, brilliantly staged and acted. It is dramatic, intense and interest-compelling.

AMATEURS PLAN TO PRESENT "PRIVATE SECRETARY" SHORTLY

It will be good pews to the patrons of the above theatre to learn that the next production in which R. N. Hincks and his talented associates will appear is "The Private Secretary." It shares with "Charley's Aunt," the distinction of being one of the two funniest plays in the world, and an evening of fun and merriment is assured any who intend witnessing the production during the run. The members of the excellent cast are now rehearsing this famous play and includes such well-known local artistes as Mrs. Tayler, Mrs. Thornborrow, Mrs. G. Meredith, Miss Violet Tayler, Major Tayler, Lieut. R. R. Webb and Messrs. R. N. Hincks, A. M. D. Fairbairn, Legge-Willis and Vernon Miller. No doubt is felt by the management at the success which will meet this popular production. Tickets for the opening and subsequent performances can now be secured by personal application at the box office or by phoning 4625.

COMING ON FRIDAY.

Lamberti, the zylphonist supreme, will be seen on the opening bill of the Orpheum vaudeville, which commences its season at the Royal Victoria Friday, Saturday matinee and night. Lamberti is a wizard who delights in surfeiting his auditors with his best efforts and he assuredly makes good beyond all contradiction. Lamberti, as his name would indicate, is of Italian origin and should therefore be qualified to be considered musical. To be called a perfect musical artist, it is essential that the student has some natural ability and liking for the art, and this artist meets all these requirements with the additional adjuncts so necessary to successful public performers. Advertised as the zyphonist supreme, Lamberti offers a most delectably, entertaining programme of instrumental numbers from grand opera selections and the ever-popular syncopated songs, which he presents in the best manner.

BITRO-PHOSPHATE BEST THING FOR THIN PEOPLE

Women Need It to Bring Pink Glow of Health to Pale Cheeks and Forestall Tell-Tale Lines of Age. Men Need it to Make Strong, Vigorous Bodies and Steady Nerves.

Judging from the countless preparations and treatments which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, developing arms, neck and bust, and replacing ugly hollows and angles by the soft curved lines of health and beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who keenly feel their excessive thinness.

Thinness and weakness are usually due to starved nerves. Our bodies need more phosphate than is contained in modern foods. Physicians claim there is nothing that will supply this deficiency so well as the organic phosphate known among druggists as bitro-phosphate, which is inexpensive and is sold by Cyrus H. Bowes in Victoria and most all druggists under a guarantee of satisfaction or money back. By feeding the nerves directly and by supplying the body cells with the necessary phosphoric food elements, bitro-phosphate quickly produces a welcome transformation in the appearance; the increase in weight frequently being astonishing.

This increase in weight also carries with it a general improvement in the health. Nervousness, sleeplessness and lack of energy, which nearly always accompany excessive thinness, soon disappear, dull eyes become bright and pale cheeks glow with the bloom of perfect health.

CAUTION:—Although bitro-phosphate is unsurpassed for relieving nervousness, sleeplessness and general weakness, it should not, owing to its remarkable flesh-growing properties, be used by anyone who does not desire to put on flesh.

DANCE AND SONG ABOUNDS AT PAN

Ziegler Sisters, in Charming Terpsichorean Number, Outstanding Feature of Show

The Ziegler Sisters, Myrtle and Adelaide, occupy a commanding place in the current Pantages bill of six highly attractive act.

The Ziegler Sisters are described as vaudeville's charming exponents of grace and agility in dance and syncopation. There is also an augmented orchestra which greatly adds to the success of this charming dance offering.

The snare drummer gives a particularly fine exhibition and is conspicuously within the rays of the calcium throughout the performance.

Myrtle and Adelaide Ziegler are graceful exponents of the dance and their efforts drew a veritable storm of applause from large first night audiences.

"Her Left Shoulder" is featured as the headline act with Charles Lammers, Babette Winifred and Lawrence Akerlind as the principals. It is a musical melange introducing some excellent dance and song numbers and boasts a plot that is productive of considerable hilarity. Babette Winifred is a petite and charming personage who displays lots of vitality and Charles Lammers and Lawrence Akerland shine in their respective roles. There is also a beauty chorus that helps to make the act go with a swing. Joss Stewart and Ollie Olive appear in a singing and ancing act which offers a series of novelties. The eccentric dance presented by Olive is different and her partner displays much agility in his footwork.

Bell and Eva are trampoline artists who make a pleasing opener to the bill. Some distinctly new stunts are introduced by this clever team.

Rosa Valyda presents a song surprise and impresses her hearers with the elasticity and range of her voice.

A novelty singing turn is put on by Creamer, Barton and Sparling, who are filling a return engagement.

The twelfth episode of the film serial "Man of Might" depicts another climax in which the hero and heroine are hurled into a volcano and their fate left in doubt.

ALL ROADS WILL LEAD TO THE AUTO RACES

Auto Dealers Close Shop to See Speed Kings of Pacific Coast

Harry Hooper, the racing driver of Vancouver, will arrive on Thursday morning for the speed demons' day at the Willows, Saturday. J. D. Duncan's Vulcan Kewpie. Their entry was in doubt until Hooper telephoned this morning that Mr. Duncan, who is the managing director of the Vulcan Iron Works, would enter his car in the auto races to be staged at the Willows track Saturday.

Built For Earl Cooper.

The Vulcan Kewpie is one of the specially built racing creations turned out at the Stultz factory for Earl Cooper, the world's famous driver, who won in many famous long distance events with it in the United States, and it is still a splendid car for dirt track racing, as Hooper so ably demonstrated at the Vancouver auto races of July 19.

Will Soon Arrive.

When he was prominent in all events to which the Vulcan Kewpie was eligible, Jack Ross will also arrive on Thursday, coming from Seattle with his big Dussenberg racer, which arrived from San Francisco in Seattle on Sunday night. Walter Blume will get here to-morrow with the Stultz special, and George Lott with the very fast Lott special, will also be here Thursday, but the Romano special may not be shipped over until Friday.

Five Speediest Cars.

The executive committee of the Victoria Automobile Dealers' Association feel highly gratified to announce the entries and drivers of the five fastest dirt track racing cars on the Pacific coast in the heavyweight racing division as follows: Lott Special, Bill Giddings; Romano Special, Chas. Latta; Stultz Special, Walter Blume; Dussenberg Special, Jack Ross; Vudcan Special, Harry Hooper.

Daring Pilots.

The racing cars mentioned above would furnish an afternoon of fine auto racing sport and every driver has a reputation for skill and daring, yet the small car races will also be exciting and full of interest, while the free-for-all at a distance of twenty miles, in which the heavy and light will be mixed, does not always mean that the greater cubic inch displacement and more speed will always be returned the winner, as racing luck has often turned the trick for a clever driver.

Are All Working.

It is a remarkable feature of the auto races of next Saturday that every automobile and accessary dealer of this city is working and boosting to make the races a great success, and is being given every aid and encouragement by many of Victoria's prominent business men, and a large out-of-town crowd will witness the events. The Automobile Dealers' Association is already planning to handle a large crowd, excursions are to be run from Nanaimo and other cities, and all automobile and accessory dealers will close their places of business on next Saturday afternoon. All entries for the various events will be closed to-morrow.

CHARLEY MULLIN WINS HIS FIRST SERIES

Former Victoria Player Leads Seattle to Five Out of Eight

Seattle, Aug. 11.—Skipper Mullen won his first series yesterday, when an even break in Monday's double bill gave his gang five games out of the eight with the busy Beavers. After dropping the opened by a six to three count, the boys pulled themselves together and sent the Portland clan on its way with a two to nothing whipping. Elmer Reiger was the man who turned the Beavers aside, and he incidentally threw his second no-run game of the Portland engagement.

National League.

Cincinnati, O., Aug. 11.—Philadelphia staged a rally in the seventh inning to-day, which gave them a victory over the league leaders, 5 to 3. For six innings Eller shut out the visitors, but in the seventh Blackburne's triple, a single by Luderus, two passes and a home run by Paulerre, gave them five earned runs and the game.

Brooklyn, Aug. 11.—Bunching four hits with two errors for five runs in the fourth, Pittsburgh defeated Brooklyn, Smith, of Brooklyn, was invincible in the other innings. Barber scored from second on a free play, Olson holding the ball when he ran home. Nicholson, who replaced Millwitz, banned for kicking, made a good impression in the field.

American League.

Washington, Aug. 11.—Chicago got a five run lead off Harper in the first inning and won with ease the odd game of the Washington series, 7 to 4. Williams was effective until the ninth, when he let down.

Boston, Aug. 11.—Pennock held St. Louis to four hits, Boston winning. With two out in the seventh inning, Hooper singled to deep short and three successive passes by Sothoron, the last to Ruth, forced over Hooper with the only run of the game. Jacobson broke his consecutive game-hitting streak after it had reached sixteen.

New York, Aug. 11.—Cleveland won a hard hiting, see-saw game from New York here to-day, 15 to 9. The Yankees drove Bagby out of the box for the second time during the series, without being able to win. Cleveland tied the score in the first, knocking out Quinn, when Smith's home run followed Speaker's single. Cleveland then knocked out Shores in the seventh and scored five runs on five hits and three bases on balls. Speaker scored five runs in six trips to the plate.

Philadelphia, Aug. 11.—Philadelphia hammered Daus for a three run lead in the first inning to-day, but two outfield fumbles by Burrus gave Detroit two runs and long drives by Jones and Ainsmith accounted for the other five, the visitors winning, 7 to 4. Cobb made two bases on an ordinary single to centre in the seventh.

SHOT FOR RIVALS.

Caldwell, N. J., Aug. 11.—A bullseye needed on the last shot to win the match, but registered on the wrong target, put the Great Lakes naval training station team third in the enlisted men's team matches here to-day. E. A. Zymanski, who made the shot, accidentally drew a bead on the target next in line.

First place went to the U. S. Marine Corps team No. 2, which scored 270 at 600 yards and 266 at 1,000 yards, for a total of 536.

FAIRALL OUT OF THE NEXT LACROSSE TILT

Victoria West Players Journey to Sidney Without Veteran Custodian

Victoria West stickhandlers journey to Sidney to-morrow in search of points in the city lacrosse league, and although they are without the services of Billy Fairall to guard the net, they anticipate they will be able to hang up the third victory against the boys in the outlying district. Three previous meetings have ended in the wild westerners hanging up a couple of victories and one game ended in a draw. At the beginning of the season the players fought through overtime play until 24 exhausted men were hardly able to move, but neither side was able to register the winning tally. Two other close games resulted in a brace for Victoria West.

The boys start from the city hall to-morrow at 5.45 making the journey to Sidney promptly on time so that the light will be good to the end of the battle. They will be without the services of Billy Fairall, the veteran goalkeeper, who has had a big hand in their success this season. Fairall, unfortunately got his hand broken in the game against the Nationals, and it is expected that he will be out of the race for the rest of the season. His place between the sticks will be taken by a young player, Rowley. Rowley played cover in the last game and held the position down well. He is a clever stickhandler, anad is believed to be equally good as a custodian as he is in the field. Stan Okell makes a request that the following players be on hand to take the autos to Sidney: Rowley, L. Redgrave, S. Redgrave, Patterson, Plump, Popham, Ross, Nute, Brown, Morrison, Alexander, Shandley and Jenkins.

A NEW ANGLE TO BITTER BASEBALL CONTROVERSY

New York, Aug. 11.—The rival forces in the American League fight occasioned by President Ban Johnson's suspension of Pitcher Carl Mays engaged in preliminary skirmishing to-day preparatory to the hearings in the Supreme Court to-morrow in the injunstion to restrain Johnson from interfering with Mays' playing with the Yankees.

The New York, Chicago and Boston clubs had representatives here for the meeting called by the New York owners to discuss the Mays case. When Johnson arrived in New York yesterday from Chicago an employee of the American League club served him with papers in the injunction proceedings.

The announcement by Tris Speaker, manager of the Cleveland club, that he would protest the Yankees' victory at the Polo Grounds yesterday on the ground that a field rule has been violated, provided a new angle to the already bitter controversy.

LEONARD BEATS IRISHMAN

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 12.—Benny Leonard, lightweight champion, outpointed "Irish" Patsy Cline, of New York, at the Philadelphia National Baseball Park here last night.

Cline forced the fighting in three of the six rounds, but Leonard's superior boxing skill carried him out of danger. In the fifth and sixth rounds Leonard used a right hand uppercut at close quarters. Cline's left eye was badly swollen. Leonard escaped without a mark.

Joe Benjamin, San Francisco, outpointed Al. Thompson of the United States Marine Corps.

BALLPLAYER FREED OF MANSLAUGHTER CHARGE

Sacramento, Cal., Aug. 11. — Charges of manslaughter were dismissed against James Caveney, shortstop of the San Francisco Pacific Coast baseball team, when witness failed to identify him as the man who struck I. Makinishe, a Japanese, in a fight a week ago in which the San Francisco players were alleged to have participated.

LOOKING THINGS OVER

As Seattle Sees Victoria.

It's all right to do as the Romans do when you're in Rome if its linguistically possible, but can you imagine Dr. Clare Shannon or any other Seattle tennis player saying "bother" when a deciding drive misses the back tape by half an inch, even if he is in Victoria? says The Seattle Times.

The American racket wielder who competes in Canadian championships has more to do than win points. He must learn the net parlance of the country, for in British Columbia a ball isn't "out," it's "gone," and a shot that's "in" is "righto." The gallery follows suit in keeping the players busy interpreting their remarks.

Even the Canadian tennis fan is a conservative mortal and instead of the "some shot" and "slicker stroke" of U. S. net circles, the local players who took part in the recent Vancouver and Victoria tourneys had to accustom themselves to "bally fine play" and "deuce of a nice drive." On one occasion when Wabraushek slipped over an ace, one Englishman let himself out so far as to remark that it was "ripping, by jove, simply ripping." By no means do they favor superlatives.

The Rosy Path of a Champion.

It developed in Cincinnati recently that Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion, left a comfortable amount of prize-ring cash in that city through the purchase of both the most costly personal raiment imported, diamond jewelry, sporting goods par excellence, imported candy sweets and numerous gew-gaws. No such sales have ever been recorded as having been made to any individual in the history of the city.

Among the items were ten suits of clothes intended for as many social occasions, pairs of fine shoes, $500 worth of shirts, as much more haberdashery, numerous nifty bathing suits, $500 worth of hats and caps and nearly a bushel full of imported candy, besides about a peck measure of jewelry for his mother in Salt Lake City and his sisters. It is estimated that $10,000 would hardly cover the champion's purchases the week he spent in Cincinnati after the Toledo fight. Jack will be able to make good his little spend feast by accepting an offer from Little Rock, Ark. The inhabitants of that city have made him an offer of $30,000 to grace them with his presence for one week when it suits his convenience.

Victoria Swimmer is Popular.

Audrey Griffin, the young Victoria expert's fame as a swimmer will soon be spread over the whole continent. San Francisco papers have expressed the hope that she will make her appearance in the city by the Golden Gate, and Seattle water fans are also anxious to see her again.

It is also the plan of Coach Vickers, of the Crystal Pool Club, Seattle, to stage an exhibition meet at the pool next month, to which Miss Griffin, the Victoria champion, will be invited. This will in reality be a renewal of the 500-yard race between Miss Griffin and Anna Mayhall of Seattle.

Won Out on His Spirit.

From a humble drawer of coal in the mines at Nanaimo to one of the fastest running horses on Vancouver Island is the record of "King," a seven-year-old animal, the property of H. Armishaw, a Nanaimo miner and a returned soldier. Mr. Armishaw is arranging to start "King" in the running races at the Vancouver Exhibition next month. The horse to date has never been beaten on the Island.

"King" was the most refractory animal in the Nanaimo mines, when Mr. Armishaw returned from overseas. He was the terror of his drivers, none of whom could manage him. An honest career alongside of docile mules pulling black diamonds did not appeal to an animal of his spirit. He always refused to duck his head at the timbers in the mine, and one day while proceeding with his usual spirit, collided with a timber. It required seventeen stitches to restore his face to natural appearance.

Admiring his fighting spirit, Mr. Armishaw purchased the horse from the mine management, who were glad to get rid of him, made friends with him and discovered that he had speed. Since then "King" has showed class on the running track and his future is now assured.

It is proposed to form an organization of them here later, and meanwhile a meeting has been called at eight o'clock on Saturday evening. A preliminary survey has disclosed that almost every unit of the Household troops is represented in Victoria and district, several being veterans of the present war.

A number of the guests contributed musical items: Mrs. Jackson and Mr. Unsworth, solos, and a duet by Mrs. Jackson and E. Rance was ably rendered. Mrs. Rice, the accompanist, kept the ball rolling with some delightful ditties in which all present joined. Sale of Work at West Sooke.—The hall at West Sooke on Friday was the scene of a bright little sale of work and dance, in aid of the funds of the Anglican church. The ladies of the Church Guild had worked hard and well, and a good assortment of fancy goods and home cooking was the result. Mrs. Felten presided over the former table and Mrs. Raymond over the latter; both did a flourishing business. Dr. Felten acted as custodian of the gate, extracting the necessary entrance fee. At 9.30 p.m. the dancing began, Mrs. Gordon of Otter Point presiding at the piano in her usual gracious and efficient manner. In the meantime Mrs. French, assisted by other willing helpers, prepared quantities of sandwiches, cake and coffee, which were duly appreciated by those present. A pleasant and profitable interlude was created by W. Miller Higgs, who auctioned two pairs of racing homer pigeons, cakes, jam, dresses, pillow cases and other assorted goods. Much spirited bidding resulted, caused largely by the desire of some to stick to their friends. The dancing then continued until the small hours of the morning. Those present enjoyed themselves immensely, and the funds of the church were augmented by over $150. The ladies of the Guild who worked so hard and well are to be congratulated on the well-deserved success of their efforts.

BAGGED SEVEN HUNS

LIEUT. EMERSON L. SMITH

LIEUT. SMITH BACK

Shot Down Seven Huns on Western Front, and Was Then Picked Off by Richtofen.

Lieut. E. L. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln Smith, of 124 Linden Avenue, has returned to this city after many exciting experiences on the Western front. While in France Lieut. Smith flew with the 45th Squadron, R. A. F., first in the Sopwith two-seater and later in the Camel. He was officially credited with seven Huns and when out after more laurels fell in with Baron von Richtofen's famous circus and was shot down behind the German lines. He was hit in the arm and lung and was in a serious condition when he landed. Lieut. Smith saw the inside of a number of prison camps and has very few good words to say about the treatment he received at the hands of the Huns. However, he is now in the best of health and glad to be back in a place where one does not have the boring occupation of gazing all day long at a procession of "squareheads."

TWO "ORIGINALS" HOME

With exactly five years and three days' service to their credit, Staff-Sergt. G. J. Forster and Pte. R. Forster, two brothers and two originals, arrived home this morning. They enlisted at the Willows on August 8, 1914, and were discharged yesterday morning at Vancouver.

Before enlisting they were members of the city police force. At Valcartier they were detailed to the 16th Battalion and saw some interesting times with that unit. During the great gas attack at Ypres Sergt Forster was wounded in the arm.

Both brothers look in the best of health and are busy to-day looking up their old acquaintances.

WILL DISCUSS ALLEGED DISCRIMINATION AGAIN

Alleged discrimination against returned soldiers in the employment of city firemen is an issue which has not been dropped by the Great War Veterans' Association, and which will be discussed by a delegation from that body with the Streets Committee of the City Council on Friday. The question previously was referred by the Council to the Fire Wardens, who recommended that the Fire Chief be left in control of his Department. This recommendation was adopted. The veterans, however, have not let the matter rest there, and will discuss it further with the civic authorities.

VANCOUVER ISLAND NEWS

At a meeting of the Courtenay School Board plans of a six-room building to be erected to take the place of the present structure were examined.

The district is growing so fast that the demands for a larger and better building for the public school are imperative, and the school trustees are examining plans from the department in Victoria with a view to erecting a building that will be a credit to the district and will be sufficient for some time to come. In the meantime, and at once, a building of the same dimensions as the City Hall will be erected to accommodate one class. When the permanent building is ready for occupation this can be used for a laboratory or manual training room.

In response to the advertisement for three teachers the board had numerous applications, numbering about fifty in all. After weighing the credentials of the applicants very carefully the board offered the position of principal of the public school to Wm. Stubbs, of Victoria, a teacher who had highly satisfactory references and credentials. For the intermediate class Miss Hilderbrand of Headquarters, has accepted the position, and the position for the junior class was left open to the next meeting.—Comox Argus.

PTE. WILSON HOME.

Pte. Arthur Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Wilson, arrived in Ladysmith last Wednesday and will spend a few days visiting his schoolboy friends and others. More than three years ago Arthur joined a Saskatchewan battalion and spent twenty-two months in the fighting line. At Cambria on October 1 he was struck with a piece of shrapnel inflicting a wound on the right shoulder and severing two fingers on the right hand. A piece of the metal also penetrated the lower joint of the thumb making it necessary to remove a portion of the bone, and thus leaving him with only two fingers on his right hand. He has had to undergo treatment of his right arm, which was paralysed, for several months, but he has now almost completely recovered its use. His hand is yet in a plaster of Paris cast and it will be some months before he will get his discharge from the service.—Ladysmith Chronicle.

BUILDING AT COURTENAY

The contract has been let for Goddard & Willemar's building on the premises formerly occupied by the Courtenay Review. Concrete foundations are already being laid for the building which will accommodate the machine shop and vulcanizing and welding plant of the Courtenay Vulcanizing and Welding Works. The old building will be renovated and used for the front of the premises.—Comox Argus.

VISITED NANAIMO

E. M. Cherry, vice-consul at Astoria, Ore., accompanied by Mr. Carruthers, was in Nanaimo last week. They remarked very favorably on the assistance and friendly spirit they met with in Nanaimo. Mr. Cherry promised that when he returned home he would strongly advise his friends to make the trip here.

FAMOUS GENERAL PAYS VISIT TO VICTORIA

Brig.-General Odlum, After Distinguished Career, Back in Province

Brigadier-General V. W. Odlum, one of the least leaders of the Canadian Corps, was in the city yesterday to meet Major-General Leckie, C.M.G., the General Officer Commanding the Military District, and other veterans of the Great War. This was his first visit since his return from overseas. When armistice was signed he was commanding the 11th Brigade of the Fourth Division. The General won the D. S. O. with bar (1915) and the C. B. (1918) and C. M. G. (1917), as well as a decoration from the Serbian Government, known as the Order of Dainlo. He was mentioned thrice in dispatches.

BRIGADIER-GENERAL ODLUM

Served in South Africa.

His first experience of active service was in the Boer War of 1899-02, when he went overseas as a private in the 2nd R. C. R. Both he and his younger brother obtained their commissions in the field within a year of their enlistment. Even before the Boer War, Gen. Odlum had been identified with the Canadian militia and by 1914 had fifteen years' continuous service to his credit. On returning to Canada in 1902 he became identified with the 48th Highlanders of Toronto, in which unit he held a commission. On coming to Vancouver in 1902 he took an active interest in local militia matters and was one of those officers who founded the 11th Irish Fusiliers.

Second in Command.

The outbreak of war in 1914 found him second in command of this unit. In the first days of the war he joined for overseas and left Vancouver as major and second in command of the Vancouver contingent. When this band of volunteers became the nucleus of the 7th Battalion, Major Odlum became second in command. He was present at the second battle of Ypres when his battalion in their gallant stand against the first Hun gas attack suffered such heavy sacrifices among officers and men. Lieut.-Col. Hart McHarg was killed and Major Odlum took command. Shortly after this battle he led the 7th Battalion in the engagement of Festubert.

To the 7th Battalion under Col. Odlum is given the credit for putting on the first of that long series of raids which did so much to destroy the morale of the enemy in the winters of 1915 and 1916. The action in itself was on a small scale, but was most carefully planned in every detail, and was entirely successful. The orders issued by Col. Odlum for this raid were afterwards taken as a model for other enterprises of this kind. They were copied by Marshal Joffre and circulated throughout the French army as an example to be followed in future raids. In June, 1916, Col. Odlum was given command of the 11th Canadian Brigade with the rank of brigadier-general. At Mount Sorrel he was wounded, but returned to his brigade after a brief interval.

Always After Hun.

Again, in the attack on the Drocourt-Queant line in September, 1918, the General was hit, but though he had a wound he refused to leave the line and remained on duty. Recognized as a man absolutely without fear, and nothing if not a fighter, General Odlum was also a strong disciplinarian. He was known as one of the most fearless fighters on the Western Front. During the last months of the war he performed several miraculous reconnaisances, on one occasion going forward in a whippet tank to look over the ground. He seemed to have a charmed life.

The General before going overseas was city editor of The Vancouver World and identified with other newspapers.

NEWS AND NOTES OF THE MINES

The coal situation at Fernie and other points along the Crow's Nest shows little signs of improvement says the Cranbrook Courier. With the coal operators determined to force the miners into submission, and with the miners still more determined to carry their point, the fuel situation daily grows more serious. There can be no good come out of a complex situation such as we are facing. Immediate action is urged by the Canadian railway war board to insure next winter's supply of coal. Should the Fernie mines commence work at once it will take a month to complete the preparatory work before a ton of coal can be shipped. The public bodies of the city should take a hand in the matter. It has developed a situation which cannot be considered lightly. Pressure must be brought to bear to immediately effect a settlement.

There is no under-estimating the situation, the impending shortage is real, its seriousness cannot be exaggerated. The local supply of the Cranbrook Electric Light Company and the Canadian Pacific Railway is holding out. For domestic purposes there is none to be had. It will be well for citizens to place orders for wood as soon as possible. This winter there will be a shortage of cordwood and the price is likely to jump, owing to the increased wages paid men in the bush and the difficulty of securing labor for this class of work.

R. F. Green, M.P., for West Kootenay, addressing the Nelson Board of Trade, said in part: As to the ore testing plant, all were aware that the government had made an appropriation for such a plant in British Columbia. He had, of course, made representation to the Minister of Mines, and through him to the Government, that the Kootenay was the real centre of the mining community and as such was entitled to the location, but representations were also being made by other sections, such as Vancouver Island and the Mainland. While he could not give assurance that the ore testing plant would be located in the Kootenay, he could give the assurance that its claims would be thoroughly looked into before the choice of the site was made.

W. S. Harris is preparing to perform the assessment work on the Silver Bell group on Nine Mile mountain near Hazelton, in which he is interested with Geo Stewart.

William Thomlinson of New Denver, and S. A. Ritchie of Trail, one of the Consolidated company's engineers have proceeded to Franklin camp, where they expect to spend a week looking over various properties there. Mr. Thomlinson is a well known ore expert who was sent to Franklin camp last summer by the munitions resources commission when they were specially in quest of platinum. Mr. Thomlinson's first report was so encouraging that he was sent back for a longer period and much valuable information concerning the camp was gained. His complete report is shortly to be published by the Government.

The Dawson branch of the Great War Veterans' Association is seeking to get a number of longstanding idle placer mining concessions in the Territory declared void, and thrown open, so that returned soldiers can get claims on them. They have interviewed Dr. Thompson, M.P., who recently arrived here. He finds a number of old compensation claims have a priority in case concessions are opened and there is not much liklihood that any will be declared forfeitable as yet.

Hon. James Dunsmuir of Victoria, accompanied by Mrs. Dunsmuir, Mr. Little, general manager of the Dunsmuir mining interests, and Mrs. Little; R. Marpole, general executive assistant to the Canadian Pacific railway in British Columbia; H. G. Cambie, chief consulting engineer for the Canadian Pacific railway, and Dr. Wasson, during their Kootenay tour visited Sandon to make an inspection of the Noble Five property, which is owned by the Dunsmuir interests. Mr. Miller, district superintendent of the C. P. R. accompanied the party to the Slocan.

A sample ore from a 12-inch width of clean galena in one of the three veins on the Tenderfoot group, on Tenderfoot creek, in the Lardeau, assayed two weeks ago, runs better than $1,700 in silver, lead and copper values, the silver alone going over $1,500. Benjamin Lawson and Eric Strand are the owners of the property and Mr. Lawson brought down this and other samples from his last trip up to the mine, which was two years ago. The nice looking piece of galena has been decorating Mr. Lawson's back porch until a few days ago, when he decided on an assay.

For thirteen or fourteen years Messrs. Lawson and Strand have been working quietly on this group of seven claims, which is located about seven miles from Poplar, which is the nearest rail point. The three parallel viens have been developed by about 200 feet of tunnel and the greatest depth gained is about fifty feet. The sample assayed was at considerable depth.

Application was made by Mr. Strand this last spring for a provincial grant toward opening up a rawhide trail, or a wagonroad if the cost should not be too great, between the mines and Poplar. There is a rough pack trail at present. Given facilities for getting ore out, it is believed there would soon be a producing mine on this creek. The Tenderfoot is in the same mining zone as the Spy-Glass, located twelve miles up Poplar Creek.

Soldiers Want Accommodation.—There are a large number of returning soldiers and their dependents coming from England almost every week now and the committee for welcoming them are finding it rather difficult to help them to find rooms. Will anyone knowing of furnished housekeeping rooms, flats or small houses not too expensive, please advertise in the daily press in order that the committee may be placed in possession of the necessary information to provide accommodation.

WERE APPLIED FOR BUT NOT TAKEN OUT

Capt. Whittaker Replies to Charge Against G.W.V.A. Officials re Fish Licenses

Vancouver, Aug. 12.—That salaried and other officials of the Great War Veterans' Association applied for fishing licences last Spring at a time when their future movements were uncertain and when they were not in a position to know whether they would continue in their present occupations, was the statement made yesterday of Captain Whittaker, president of the local G.W.V.A.

"At the time these applications were made to the Government certain officials and officers in Government pay were expecting to be demobilized, and the applications were made while under that impression," said Captain Whittaker. "When it was found that there would be no change in their circumstances, the officials of the G.W.V.A. refused their licences. They have never been taken out, in spite of the names that may appear upon the fishing licence lists. These officials certainly had no intention of farming out the licences, but I may say that if they had taken them out they would have fished under them just as any other fishermen would. They were applied for when it looked as though some means of obtaining a livelihood would be the uppermost consideration and certainly men with responsibilities to consider were entitled to look around for the best method a living. Merely because a man held some sore of official position is no reason why he should be barred forever from entering into any legitimate enterprise."

The Complaint

"The World yesterday published the following:

"Claiming that a large number of fishing licences have been improperly issued to the prejudice of returned men wanting to make a living by fishing, Sergt.-Major Jimmy Robertson arrived in the city this morning to confer with Conolel Cy Peck, V.C., who is in Vancouver on his way from Ottawa to his home in the North.

"Sergt.-Major Robinson wants the authorities at Ottawa stirred up to an investigation of the lists of licencees who secured their licences this Spring in British Columbia. He claims that the list contains the names of salaried officials of veterans' organizations, of officers still actively employed in the militia and drawing Government pay, and of other salaried officers of the Government. In the list which Mr. Robinson carries with him there are also to be found the names of hotel keepers, ministers of the Gospel and others whose claims to fishing licences could not have been advanced on the grounds that they were intending to make their livelihood of the fishing of salmon.

"One hears a great deal of talk about putting the means of making a decent livelihood in the reach of the returned soldier," said Mr. Robinson, "but a great deal of this talk ends in the manner shown by this list. Fishing licences that were reserved for the use of the returned men, who would have made genuine fishers, have been taken out by men, some of them veterans, who did not want living, but simply for farming out at the licences as a means of making a a profit. I want to see the whole matter aired and an investigation ordered by the Minister of Marine, which I am certain would result in a wholesale revision of the list and the cancelling of many licences for which there are returned genuine fishermen waiting at present."

BIG TYPEWRITER PLANT IS CLOSED

Hartford, Conn, Aug. 12.—The Underwood Typewriter Company has announced the closing of its entire plant here, with the exception of the office department, because of strikes which have occurred in the past three weeks. This action followed a strike of 400 additional employees yesterday, making a total of 2,400 idle out of the regular force of 4,100 workers. According to the management, the railroad freight tie-up was partly responsible for the shutdown.

JEWELRY WORKERS IN SAN FRANCISCO OPENING A PLANT

San Francisco, Aug. 12.—The members of the International Jewelry Workers' Union No. 36 here announced to-day that they would open this week a co-operative plant for the manufacture and repair of jewelry.

This follows a strike called Saturday after the manufacturing jewelers had refused a recognize the union and grant a minimum wage.

The union workers said that their plant was being started to prevent inconvenience to the public as a result of the strike. The prices will be considerably below those charged by the regular jewelers, they promise.

FIVE SONS FOUGHT; ALL CAME BACK

Gathering at Sluggetts Saturday Celebrates Return of Sons of Alfred Petch

What is perhaps a unique family record in the district received recognition on Saturday evening last when a party of about fifty friends gathered at the home of Alfred Petch at Martin's Road, Sluggets, to celebrate the safe return from overseas of his five soldier-sons.

Mr. Petch, who was formerly in business as a jeweller in Victoria, is the proud father of five sons who all enlisted as privates in the early days of the war and have all come through safely. Sergt. Sidney Petch was the first to go, leaving with the 30th Battalion. As a souvenir of the great war he walks with a limp having had half of his foot shot away. The second to volunteer was Lieut. Arthur Petch, who gained his commission in France. Next in order were Pte. George M. Petch, who left with the 62nd Battalion; Corpl. R. A. Petch, of the 67th Battalion, and Sergt. F. Ernest Petch, the well-known singer, who left with the 102nd Battalion. While in France Sergt. Petch organized the Concert Party of the 4th Division—an aggregate of sixty singers whose concerts will be well remembered by the troops of that division. In addition to having five sons volunteer for service, Mr. Petch's nephew, Corpl. Chris. A. Petch, whom he brought with him from the Old Country many years ago, left in 1915 with the C. A. S. C. He, however, has received his discharge and is making his home in England.

Saturday's festivities were for the dual purpose of welcoming the boys home and bidding farewell to the district, as Mr. Petch, sr., has sold his farm and will again make his home in this city. Coupled with congratulations at the family's splendid patriotism, the friends assembled expressed regret that Saanich was to lose so valued a resident. As may have been expected with a family whose every member possesses musical talent, the greater part of the evening was given over to music.

EASTERN EDITORS ON VISIT TO VICTORIA

Journalists From Quebec, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island Here

Three well-known eastern Canadian journalists are visiting the city in the persons of John T. Hawke, editor of The Transcript of Moncton, N. B., Arthur Lamont, editor of Le Canada, of Montreal, and W. L. Cotton, editor of The Examiner of Charlottetown, P. E. I. They accompanied the National Editorial Association from Winnipeg to Vancouver, and are spending the time in the coast cities while awaiting the arrival of the main party which they will meet here next week, and with which they will return to Winnipeg.

This is Mr. Lamont's first visit to western Canada, and readers of his paper are assured a very interesting series of articles recording his impressions. Le Canada is one of the most influential of the French-Canadian dailies, and Mr. Lamont's presence in the west at this time may be taken as an indication that it purposes to give considerable attention to western affairs with the object of making Canada's oldest and youngest provinces better acquainted with one another.

John T. Hawke is one of the best-known figures in Canadian journalism. He has pursued his profession in numerous places having been Managing Editor of The Toronto Globe, Editor of The Ottawa Free Press, editor of The Hamilton Tribune and associated at various times with other well-known publications before acquiring The Moncton Transcript, which he has held since 1887. Mr. Hawke, in fact, nearly became a Victorian, for he was offered the editorship of The Colonist when it was under the direction of the Hon. Amor de Cosmos, but was unable to accept the offer. The vacancy which existed at that time was filled by Mr. Lawson, then well-known in the journalism of the maritime provinces.

Mr. Cotton is a veteran publicist of more than three decades' experience, and is well known throughout the east as the editor of The Charlottetown Examiner. This is not his first visit to Victoria, but the city has undergone many changes since his last trip west. Prince Edward Island, like the other maritime provinces, is well represented in Victoria's population, and Mr. Cotton and his colleagues are busy to-day renewing old acquaintances.

Street railway trainmen and common laborers will receive a daily wage of $4.75, $5 and $5.25, according to service.

Washington, Aug. 12.—Indications are that the tropical storm in the Caribbean Sea will not pass into the Gulf of Mexico, the United States Weather Bureau announced to-day. The disturbance is reported moving westward on about latitude 15 and is apparently of slight intensity.

ORIGIN OF THE JAZZ.

How many people know the real meaning of the word Jazz? Authorities on Jazz dancing say it is a word used by niggers to denote a scramble. The dance itself has been known in the Southern States of America for many years. Crude and vulgar, it is performed by negroes to the accompaniment of two or three banjoists and a drummer, whose chief business is to make noises. In fact, the dance has been defined as "a number of niggers surrounded by noise."

Some possibilities were seen in it of a music-hall turn for New York, and it was performed there by an augmented band of twenty banjoists, several zither players, and a drummer, whose acrobatic antics in producing noise brought down the house and made the band so popular that it was promptly multiplied.

Band and dance eventually found their way to this country, and it's sometimes said rather unkindly that some white people have made the dance scarcely less vulgar than the blacks.—JTit-Bits.

THERE'S GOLD IN SEA WATER.

That there is gold in the sea is well known. Someone has even taken the trouble to compute the approximate amount. Every ton of sea-water contains about one grain of gold. Every cubic mile of the ocean contains 4,205,650,000 tons and the oceans are estimated to hold at least 302,000,000 cubic miles of water.

There are, therefore, 1,270,106,300,000,000,000 tons of salt water, and it is a simple arithmetical calculation to determine that this contains something like 90,000,000,000 tons of gold. A little fortune, surely, for the man who knows how to get it.

It has been asserted that a process for the precipitation and collection of gold thus held in solution has been perfected. But the method is not practical on a commercial scale.

The difficulty is how to avoid working the same water over and over again. Plainly every ton of sea-water that is robbed of its gold must go back again into the ocean. There it would dilute the gold contents until, by and by, each ton would yield a constantly diminishing fraction of a grain of the precious metal.—Tit-Bits.

WISE MEN SAY

That good manners and good morals are companions.

That industry is the key to success.

That there's no time to begin like the present.

That the boat built to carry another man's cargo may capsize under yours.

That the worst use that can be made of success is to boast about it.

That gossips have no use for people who refuse to furnish material for them.

That a man always making excuses leaves himself no time to make anything else.

That a man sometimes longs for to-morrow because he is ashamed of what he didn't do to-day.

That it is a shallow mind that suspects or rejects an offered kindness because it is unable to discover the motive.

That the man who never made a success of anything in his life always wonders why other men do not heed is advice.—Tit-Bits.

SMOKE INTERFERES WITH NAVIGATION ON GREAT LAKES

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Aug. 12.—From 11 o'clock Sunday night until last night not a vessel has passed through the canals bound up stream, while of the down-bound traffic only two, the Agawa and Rochester, have passed through since Sunday.

Over the river and Lake Superior hangs the smoke from forest fires, like a low cloud, completely obscuring vision in every direction. Navigation has practically ceased.

At short intervals the sirens of the scores of anchored chafts send out their notes of warning.

It is the worst situation that has confronted navigation for years.

MUSTARD VS. CORN.

What is to be the biggest crop in England when next harvest comes? There are probably few people who would guess the right answer. The world is short of food. Thousands are dying of starvation. Russia, which should be the greatest exporting country, will not be a quarter tilled. Whatever happens food will be scarce and dear. We shall continue to pay high prices for flour, meat, milk, butter, cheese and eggs.

Therefore it seems strange that England in this crisis has decided to devote more acres than ever before was heard of to—mustard. Anticipatory prices are offered of forty shillings a bushel for brown mustard and thirty-five shillings for white mustard, and farmers naturally enough cannot resist the bribe, and are putting down great stretches of cornland to mustard.

The price for this curious crop is usually fixed by a small group of buyers at a shilling or two more than wheat so that farmers shall grow just enough. But the war has exhausted all supplies. There is no mustard anywhere.

So it comes about that these invaluable corn areas in the Eastern Counties are to produce unheard-of quantities of mustard in order to make good the exhausted supplies. The plough-land will be yellower than a buttercup meadow when harvest comes, and indeed for many years; for brown mustard is a plant almost as invincible as grass, and no cultivation can kill its oily, indestructible seeds when one it has got a good hold of the land. But it is something to know that the world will have plenty of mustard even if it cannot get beef to eat with it.—Tit-Bits.

HAVE ANIMALS FEELINGS?

There are many instances showing that a sense of humor has been given to animals as well as to human beings. A puppy on one occasion stole a bone from a dog that was chained up, and sat gnawing its capture just out of reach of the chain, wagging its tail, and apparently enjoying the humor of the situation to the full.

Monkeys, again, will chatter in huge glee when they succeed in pilfering the spectacles of an old lady, and cats have been known to purr with delight when they have been successful in cheating a rival of some dainty morsel.

Animals are also subject to sorrow, and horses, cattle, and deer have been known to weep at the loss of their progeny.—Tit-Bits.

STOCKS STRONGER IN NEW YORK

Equipment Shares Were Greatly Favored at the Session To-day

(By Burdick Bros. & Brett, Ltd.)

New York, Aug. 12.—There were different opinions regarding the stock market situation, traders for both accounts being uncertain of their position. Talk on the steel industry was particularly optimistic. Railroad stocks are said to have more friends in spite of bearish attacks by professional operators. The equipment shares were very strong, American Locomotive, Baldwin Locomotive and Pressed Steel Car were particularly well taken. The strength in these shares inspired short covering in other departments. There was little outside participation on account of serious wire trouble throughout the country.

CUNARD GETS CONTROL OF ENORMOUS TONNAGE

Over Eighty Large Cargo Carriers Have Been Added to Fleet by Expansions Since Outbreak of the War — System Developed by Acquisition of Six Companies

The first tangible information as to the magnitude which has come out of the Cunard Line's gradual expansion of its overseas carrying trade during the war, is made available in the official announcement that the company has, from time to time, absorbed six other companies, with a combined fleet of more than eighty modern vessels, and has acquired an interest in another large shipping company.

Sir Ashley Sparks, director-general of the Cunard in America, states that the system has been extended so as to include the control of the Brocklebank Line, Funch Edye & Co., Inc., Commonwealth & Dominion, Anchor-Donaldson Line, and the American-Levant Co. Recently the Cunard Line has purchased an interest in the business of the Robert Reford Co., of Montreal.

Further Expansion.

By virtue of its new acquisitions, which date variously from 1915, the great English corporation has gained a hold in nearly every part of the world. Furthermore it is understood that still further plans have been laid and will be put into force when some of the tonnage now under construction becomes available to augment the services of the company.

From time to time reports have come across the ocean to the effect that various interests were being acquired by the Cunard interests, but the true proportions of the amalgamations were not appreciated here owing to the shrewd secrecy that was cast about all affairs of shipping during the war. In the acquisition of Funch, Edye & Co., the English interests gained in almost invaluable property. Whereas Funch Edye does not own a single ship, it serves as operator and agent for a large number of companies distributed throughout the globe. It is understood that the control of this concern came in instalments, but the Cunard Line managed to buy heavily enough into the company to direct its operations since the spring of 1917. While no effort has been made to keep the news a secret in England, the purchase has not had wide currency here.

Before the war the Cunard Line specialized in its fine passenger service, although it engaged largely in freight carrying. But, through the acquisition of six lines, the corporation has woven a net work for freight and passenger service that seem to make possible its goal as one of the leading factors in sea-carrying throughout the world.

Some of the largest and fastest freight carriers are numbered among those which came into its possession through deals consummated during the war.

Brocklebank Line Bought.

The Brocklebank Line, which operates between England, Scotland and India, had twenty-five cargo carriers which have an average speed of twelve knots an hour. Two of the ships, the Mancharda and the Malancha, have gross tonnages in excess of 10,000 tons. Incidentally, the Masirah and Matheran have just been turned out of English shipyards. The list of ships owned by the Brocklebank Line are:

Anchoria, Blackwell, Holywell; Imanta, Mancharda, Mahanada, Mahratta, Mahronda, Mahmud, Maidan, Malhar, Mainyo, Makalla, Malakand, Malakuta, Malaucha, Manaar, Marwarri, Masirah, Matheran, Matra, Media, Shadwell, Stockwell.

Commonwealth and Dominion.

The Commonwealth and Dominion Line, which operates from New York to various ports in Australia and New Zealand, maintains a service which requires twenty-six vessels. When the Cunard gained control of the Commonwealth and Dominion Line it acquired the following ships:

Port Adelaide, 8,465 tons; Port Albany, 5,714; Port Alma, 6,669; Port Augusta, 4,063; Port Bowen, 8,465; Port Campbell, 6,230; Port Chalmers, 6,534; Port Curtis, 4,710; Port Darwin, 10,365; Port Denison; Port Elliott, 7,395; Port Hardy, 6,533; Port Hacking, 6,235; Port Hunter, 4,062; Port Kembla, 8,465; Port Lincoln, 7,243; Port Lyttleton, 6,444; Port Macquarie, 7,336; Port Melbourne, 9,152; Port Napier, 5,492; Port Nicholson, 8,465; Port Pirie, 7,346; Port Phillip, 4,080; Port Stephen, 6,179; Port Sydney, 9,136; Port Victor, 7,280.

Anchor Line.

There were twelve vessels in the Anchor Line and four in the Anchor-Donaldson Line. They were the first of the smaller companies to be absorbed by the Cunard Line. The Anchor Line had the following ships, several of which were combination freight and passenger ships:

Calabria, Cameronia, Castalia, Circassia, Columbella, Elysia, Italia, Masilia, Olympia, Scindia, Tarantia, Tiberis.

There were four ships owned by the Anchor-Donaldson Line, which maintained a service between Montreal, Portland, Me., and Liverpool. They were the Athenia, with an 8,668 gross tonnage; the Cassandra, 8,135; Letitia, 8,991; and the Saturnia, 8,611.

The American-Levant Company had a service to the Levant before the requisition of its two ships by the British Government, which caused a suspension of its line. The two vessels, the River Araxes and the River Orontes, 4,400 gross tons, are now flying the Cunard flag.

New Services Started.

Through the purchase of these properties and the buying of other ships from other interests, the Cunard Line has been able to start several new services since the signing of the armistice. Announcement was made by Sir Ashley Sparks that about July 30 the Cunard Line would inaugurate a service from the port of Baltimore to Avonmouth. The steamer Doonholm, an 8,000-ton ship, will be dispatched from the Maryland port to England. It is anticipated that another vessel will follow within two weeks, but as yet the name has not been given out.

There have been three new services started since November 11. The New York-Antwerp Line, the Baltimore-Bristol and the Philadelphia-London services were not maintained before the war. The purchase of the American-Levant Company enabled the Cunard to resume the sailings to the Levant and Black Sea ports, which were suspended during the war. The New York-Rotterdam Line, which was once operated as the Uranium Line, has also been started, as the Anchor Line trade route from Boston to Glasgow.

AUSTRALIAN LINERS HELD UP BY STRIKE

Departure of Makura and Niagara From Sydney Is as Yet Indefinite

The continuance of the shipping strike at Sydney has completely disrupted the sailing schedule of the Canadian-Australasian Line, and at the present time it is impossible to predict when the two passenger liners engaged in this trade will be able to get away from Australia for British Columbia.

Both of the Canadian-Australasian steamships plying in the regular service of the Union Steamship Company of New Zealand between, Australia, New Zealand and Canada are now at Sydney. The Niagara reached the Australian port yesterday morning and the Makura has been tied up there for some weeks awaiting the settlement of the strike.

Sailings Indefinite

The agents of the Canadian-Australasian Line on this coast have no information as to when the ships will be able to sail from Sydney for Victoria and Vancouver.

During the past few months the movements of the ships of this fleet have been seriously impeded by strikes at both ends of the route. When last on this coast the Makura was held up a month by the Vancouver strike.

GENOA STRIKERS BECOME EMPLOYERS OF LONGSHOREMEN

Genoa, Aug. 12.—(Associated Press)—Genoa longshoremen recently converted themselves in twenty-four hours from striking workmen to employers of labor. They obtained through the success a day wage rate of $6.50, and the following day hired other men for their jobs at $2 a day, thereafter living easy lives on the remaining $4.50.

CREW BATTLED WITH FIRE FOR 24 HOURS

War Cavalry, Coughlan-Built Ship, Threatened by Flames Off Costa Rica

Vancouver, Aug. 12.—The officers and crew of the steamship War Cavalry, which left here in June for England, had a terrible struggle with fire off Costa Rica, according to word received from Chief Officer A. T. Tindle. Fire broke out in the bunkers and the crew battled with the smoke and flames for twenty-four hours before it was under control. The fire started just over the boilers and the heat was so intense that the fighters had to work in three-minute shifts.

The War Cavalry is an 8,800-ton standard ship built at the Coughlan yards. She was launched March 15 and shortly afterwards sold by her owners, Raeburn & Verel, to the Forbes Corporation of New York and Montreal. She left here with a local crew, officered by local men. Captain Parks, one of the best known of the younger seafaring men of the city, is in command and is accompanied by his bride. He had just returned from the war when he took command of the Cavalry.

William Head Quarantine Station Waterworks Meets With Official Approval

The test of the William Head Quarantine Station water supply was made yesterday in the presence of Willis Chipman, the engineer who designed the system, Water Commissioner F. M. Preston, William Henderson, resident architect of the Department of Public Works, and other gentlemen.

Mr. Chipman, who will leave Victoria to-morrow, was exceedingly pleased with the results. As already explained when he arrived here, there are certain phases of the undertaking which required special care, and these have received the attention of the visiting engineer during the last few days.

The principal object of the installation, in addition to the domestic supply, was to provide for fire protection, particularly for a steamer berthed at the wharves in case of the passengers and crew being detained for quarantine at the Station.

Steps have been taken to lay pipes for the protection of vessels moored off the wharf, and in case of a conflagration it is intended to provide adequate equipment to extinguish an outbreak. From the first it has been known that the station property suffered a great hazard from fire, and that aspect has weighed considerably with the design of the water service at the Station.

PREDICTED RUN OF SOCKEYES HAS NOT MATERIALIZED

New Westminster, Aug. 12.—Fishermen and cannerymen agree that the 1919 run of sockeyes on the Fraser has not materialized. Comparatively few fish have been caught all season in the Fraser, and although Dominion Fisheries Inspector A. P. Halladay has declared his faith in a possible late run this fall, the men who fish the river are not so optimistic, and there is a general impression among the old-timers—the men who have fished it for years—that the Fraser's day as ag reat salmon producing stream is over.

Buncrana, Ireland, Aug. 12.—Gold ingots worth £1,000,000 have been recovered by salvagers from the wreck of the former White Star Dominion liner Laurentic, which was sunk January 23, 1917, off Fanad Light.

The Laurentic was acting as a British auxiliary cruiser when struck by a mine off the north coast of Ireland and sank. Of a personnel of 470 only 120 were saved.

FISHERMEN DESIRE EXTENSION OF TIME

Fraser River Men Petition Department to Prolong Net Season For Sockeyes

New Westminster, Aug. 12.—The fishermen of the Fraser River are very desirous of having the time extended in which sockeye nets can be used in the river, until the end of the season, or about November 10. Under present regulations these nets are permitted until September 30, after which a seven-inch mesh or larger must be used.

At a meeting of the Fraser River Fishermen's Protective Association, it was decided to petition the department of fisheries, Ottawa, for the granting of this request.

The principal reason for this request is the fact that about 75 per cent. of Fraser River fishermen have no seven-inch mesh nets and it is practically impossible to secure any. A large number of returned veterans are fishing this year but have only the small mesh nets. It is pointed out that American fishermen are using 500 fathoms of net as against 150 fathoms allowed in the river, besides seines and traps.

Unless the request made to Ottawa is granted, it is stated that sixty per cent. or over, of the men now fishing will have to quit.

MYSTERY REPORTS LOSS OF SEAMAN

F. Mattin Fell Overboard In Sansum Narrows Last Night and Was Drowned

While the tug Mystery, of the Producers Rock & Gravel Company, was en route from Boat Harbor to Victoria, Frederick Mattin, who used the name of F. Sampson, a member of the crew, accidentally fell overboard and was drowned.

The tragedy occurred as the Mystery was passing through Sansum Narrows, between Salt Spring and Mayne Islands, and although the vessel was stopped and a search made, no trace of the missing sailor could be found.

Mattin had been relieving Capt. Zillinsky at the wheel, and about 9 o'clock the skipper returned to the wheel-house and said "That's all right, Sampson," whereupon the latter left the wheel-house and climbed down the ladder.

Capt. Zillinsky heard a splash and he brought the tug too and cruised about the vicinity of the accident for several minutes, but without avail.

But little is known of Mattin. He had been with the Mystery for about two months and was known to have friends in Victoria West. He was of English birth and about nineteen years of age.

ASIA BOUND HERE.

The C. P. O. S. liner Empress of Asia, Capt. A. J. Bailey, R.N.R., sailed from Hongkong on August 7 for Victoria and Vancouver via China and Japan ports. The Asia is scheduled to reach this port August 26.

The liner Empress of Japan, Capt. W. Dixon-Hopecraft, R.N.R., outbound from this port, reached Yokohama August 6.

Fire and Ability.—In reporting the proceedings of the Liberal Convention at Ottawa, The Calgary Daily Herald says: "Premiers Stewart of Alberta, Martin of Saskatchewan, and Norris of Manitoba, are physically the "Big Three" of the convention, though for fire and sheer ability, Honest John Oliver, of British Columbia, is making a place for himself in the big meeting."

EDITORIAL CONVENTION

Lumbermen of City Will Entertain Party at Luncheon

Plans for a luncheon to be tendered by the local lumbering interests are under way as one of the features of entertainment in connection with the visit to Victoria of the National Editorial Association.

It is proposed to hold the affair at the Canadian Puget Sound Lumber Company's mill at noon next Tuesday. The idea is to give the visitors a novel means of getting acquainted with some of the local industries.

Disappointment was expressed by the committee in charge of the reception this morning on learning that a letter had been received from Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper, K. C., who had promised to give an address at the dinner to be held at the Empress Hotel next Monday evening, stating that he would not be present.

PRINCE RUPERT MAN APPOINTED

E. D. Johnson Made Inspector of Revenue by Provincial Government

The Cabinet this morning put through an Order-in-Council based on the recommendation of the Civil Service Commissioner, appointing Ernest D. Johnson, Prince Rupert, to the position of Inspector of Revenue in the Department of Finance.

It is understood that Mr. Johnson will arrive in the city in the course of the week and will assume his new duties on Monday next.

An Experienced Man.

Mr. Johnson is a native of Cheltenham, England, and was educated there, later taking a course in the Royal Agricultural College, Cirencester. In the earlier years after leaving college he was with one of the largest grain merchants in the United Kingdom, and for four years after that was inspector of branches attached to the Treasury Department. He came to Canada nineteen years ago, and farmed for four years.

Mr. Johnson then accepted an invitation from Frank Morse, at that time general manager of the Grand Trunk Pacific, and joined its staff in charge of the pay rolls, and, later, as travelling accountant in charge of construction distribution.

Nine years ago he was moved to Prince Rupert in charge of accounts there and was also paymaster of the mountain division. While there, he originated methods of accounting and of cost accounting which remain the standard in use by the company.

In February, 1918, Mr. Johnson was selected by the Prince Rupert City Council for the position of auditor and reorganized the accounting system, following which he was appointed city treasurer. In that office he has remodelled the city's entire debenture debt, saving the taxpayers $1,000,000 during the lifetime of the debentures.

His scheme in this regard received high commendation from the general manager of the Bank of Montreal and eastern bond houses. The finances of the city were thus placed on a sound and permanent basis.

Well-Known Figure.

Mr. Johnson has always been a priment figure in the Union of B. C. Municipalities as an authority on municipal financing, and he has been a member of the committee on that subject at several of the Union's annual conventions.

In addition to making a deep study of taxation in all its phases and its fiscal results and has opportunities of studying these problems in their practical working out in many large cities, notably in New York.

All his experience has been in large departmental work and the positions he has held have been chiefly executive. In the forthcoming consolidation of the Municipal Act and in the conferences which are shortly to take place, in accordance with the promises of the Premier and the Minister of Finance, with respect to municipal and provincial sources of taxation, Mr. Johnson's knowledge and experience are expected to be of especial value.

A Wide Choice.

It is understood that there were an unusually large number of applicants for this new position, and these have been receiving the most careful consideration from the Minister of Finance and the Civil Service Commissioner for some time past. In making the recommendation they do to the Lieutenant-Governor they feel that they have secured the services of the best equipped of all the candidates.

GERMAN-AUSTRIA IS NOT NAME NOW

Allies Tell Austrian Delegation It Is "Republic of Austria"

Paris, Aug. 12. — The Supreme Council of the Peace Conference, it was announced to-day, has advised the Austrian delegation that the Allied and Associated Powers have decided that the new Austrian Government must be called the "Republic of Austria."

This decision was taken as a result of notes from the Austrian delegation in which the delegation referred to its Government as "German--Austria."

The notes related to proposed changes in the Austrian peace treaty. In some cases the only alteration in the clauses was the change of the Austrian Government's name to German-Austria.

Berlin, Aug. 12.—General von Falkenhayn, former Chief of the German Genertal Staff, in announcing to the newspapers to-day that he assumed responsibility for the decisions and commands of the former Kaiser from September, 1914, to August, 1916, declared he had no intention whatever of voluntarily placing himself at the disposal of the Allies. The general's statement said that if he surrendered himself to the Allies he would recognize a procedure which he considered "mocks all sense of justice."

Paris newspapers on August 7 announced that the German delegation at Versailles had transmitted to the Supreme Council of the Peace Conference a letter from General von Falkenhayn. The letter said that the former German Chief of Staff assumed responsibility for all military acts of Germany while he was in power. It was added that the general was prepared to offer himself to the Allies for trial in place of the former Kaiser.

OPPOSE SELECTION OF MATHEMATICS TEACHER FROM OUTSIDE

Thomas S. Whittimore has been appointed to the teaching staff of the Victoria High School. It is intended that he shall teach mathematics to boys who have returned from the front, and are resuming their school work.

Mr. Whittimore's appointment was opposed by Trustee Mrs. Andrews and Trustee Mrs. Spofford on the ground that the position should be given to a Victoria trained man.

Mr. Whittimore will take up his duties with high qualifications. He is a graduate of London University, and for two years was a pupil teacher in England. Recently he has been teaching on H. M. S. Lancaster.

Forest Fire Situation.—The report from the Forestry Branch respecting forest fire conditions in the province shows that the Vancouver and Kamloops districts are still hazardous, while better conditions prevail in Nelson, Cranbrook, Vernon and Prince Rupert districts.

"ANTI-JOY" BY-LAW WEATHERS TORRENT OF CUTTING WORDS

Alderman Sargent Brands "Skidmobile" Ordinance as Class Legislation

SAYS CITY WILL BE AT MOTORISTS' MERCY

After Alderman Sargent has tried to block its passage by branding it as smacking of class legislation and as a measure liable to stop people having children, the "skidmobile" or "anti-joy" by-law, framed to keep children's vehicles off the roadways, weathered another squall at the City Council meeting last night. Before it becomes law, however, it will have to be read again next week, and in the meantime Alderman Sargent and his supporters prophecy its downfall.

The Sargent Amendment

When the new ordinance came up for discussion last night Alderman Sargent, most vigorous critic of the by-law, moved that it be considered again in committee in order that he might present an amendment.

Alderman Patrick, father of the by-law, opposed this move on the ground that the measure had been laid on the table for a week on a previous occasion in order that its opponents might suggest amendments. This they had not done and now, at the eleventh hour, they had changes to propose.

The by-law, however, was re-committeed and Alderman Sargent proceeded to move his amendment. He urged that the regulations of the by-law should be applied only to streets within the fire limits and to other thoroughfares traversed by street car lines. This modification the alderman thought, would remove the strong criticism which the by-law had met, and would pave the way to an "easier condition of affairs." The prevention of children using roller skates, skidmobiles and other vehicles between the curbs, on pain of a maximum fine of $25 to be collected from their parents, the alderman asserted, was too drastic altogether.

With Malice Aforethought

Alderman Andros, who has declared that failure to pass the by-law would amount to manslaughter, championed the ordinance in his usual vigorous style. The alderman could not understand how the editors of local newspapers could write such "utter rot" as had been printed about the by-law in the editorial columns. These editorials, the alderman declared, were published with "malice aforethought." It was ridiculous to brand the $25 penalty clause as too drastic when, as the editors knew, that was the maximum fine and might never be levied. The fine, Alderman Andros asserted, might be ten cents and, the chances were the child found skidmobiling in the middle of the street would be allowed out on suspended sentence anyway.

Alderman Patrick was willing that streets not considered dangerous by the police authorities should be made immune from the by-law, but he urged the Council not to wait until some child had been mangled by a passing motor or street car.

This idea, however, did not meet with Alderman Andros's approval. "The motorists do not, if they can help it, use the same streets as the electric cars, and the children do not usually play on these streets. It is other streets that are dangerous," he argued.

"It is true," agreed Alderman Patrick, "that by passing Alderman Sargent's motion we would be running into more trouble than before. "I say this without trying to play to the galleries either."

Soon There Will Be No Children.

The by-law savored of class legislation, Alderman Sargent intimated. "The people who cannot afford automobiles, but who have a few children—their children cannot have any pleasure at all, I suppose, eh?" he demanded. "It is absolutely ridiculous to say that the children cannot play on the streets. What kind of a city are you going to have anyway? You are going to exclude the manufacturers and now the children! What's the good of children anyway if they can't play," pursued the Alderman, hinting that the by-law tended toward race suicide. "Pretty soon," he added, "there won't be any children, and the city will be dominated by the motorist."

"Oh, these delays, are getting ridiculous," the Mayor interjected. "Either adopt the by-law or kill it outright."

Not a Joke.

"This by-law is no hobby of mine," Alderman Patrick reminded his colleagues. "I have nothing against the children, nothing against fun and sport. I am not trying to kill joy as some seem to think. This by-law has been made a joke. It is no joke, but is framed to protect, not to tyrannize over the children. If the police are satisfied to designate certain streets as immune from the by-law I am satisfied, however."

Would Be Enforced Discretely.

The by-law would be enforced at the discretion of the police, the Mayor and Chairman of the Police Commission told the Council in reply to a query from Alderman Johns. The children playing with vehicles in the middle of the streets would not necessarily be arrested, but probably just warned on to the sidewalks. The police would decide on what streets the by-law should be enforced.

"No, there won't be one arrest in six months," agreed Alderman Andros.

Alderman Sargent feared that it would be a very great mistake to inculcate into young minds a disregard of the city's laws.

"The by-law as it stands is all right," said the Mayor as Alderman Sargent's amendment was lost on a six to five vote and the by-law, as originally drafted, was passed.

WOULD TAKE WATER FROM CITY MAINS

Councillor Porter, of Esquimalt, Offers Suggestion; Other Business

That Victoria water mains should be run to the Esquimalt boundary so that the Esquimalt municipality might connect up with its own mains and supply the residents of the district was the suggestion made at last night's meeting of the Esquimalt Council by Councillor Porter.

Water Services.

The discussion arose as a result of another application by Mr. Simpson to have water connections made with his house on Drake Avenue. There are no houses intervening for about 200 yards, and to connect up with the nearest pipe would mean that he would have to pay the 40c a foot demanded by the Esquimalt Waterworks Company, or do without water.

Councillor Bridle was of the opinion that the company had no legal authority to enforce the charge. The Council decided to allow Mr. Bridle to seek the solicitor's opinion on the question, and also as to whether the Municipality had any right to lay water mains within its boundaries, in case a connection could be made with Victoria's mains.

Councillor Porter was of the opinion that if such a scheme as he proposed could be carried out it might bring the Esquimalt Waterworks Company to time and "they might sell out to us for about one-fifth of what the plant is valued at," he said.

"You don't know what you can do till you try," said Councillor Wise.

Size of Lots.

A letter was read by the clerk in which the solicitor advised the Council that it had no power to regulate the size of lots within its boundaries. "We will look into that," said Reeve Coles, and other members of the Council seemed unwilling to let the matter rest.

Road Is Assured.

The filing of a new plan of subdivision by the B. C. Potteries' Assignee, in which a 33-foot road allowance is provided, assures the elimination of the inconvenience suffered for so long by the people of Esquimalt of having to go a mile out of their way to cross from points on Devonshire Road to Viewfield Road. The Hudson's Bay Company has always been willing to donate a similar strip, alongside that now given by the Potteries Company, so that it only remains now for the Council to make arrangements for the road to be opened.

No Fool Question.

Councillor Bridle had a good many questions to ask last night about taxation and rebates. When the question of sending two delegates to the convention of the Union of B. C. Municipalities to be held in North Vancouver, September 16 to 18 came up, Councillor Porter recommended Councillor Bridle as one of the delegates.

"Well, there is no hurry about the appointment," said the Reeve. "There is one thing certain if we send delegates, they will have to be delegates, and they will go with instructions from this Council, but we can't have anyone going there asking fool questions."

Baneful Influence.

The Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor of St. Paul's Church, Victoria West, wrote the Council: "In view of the baneful influence on young people of the amusement booths at the B. C. Electric Park at the Gorge and because these practices are contrary to the laws of the land, we request the Council to enforce the law and have these places closed."

"It seems to me some people are taking a lot of interest in other people's business," remarked Councillor Cave.

The communication was 'received and filed' despite Councillor Bridle's strong objection that it should receive the courtesy of a reply.

"Parents need'nt allow their children to go there if they object to the place," was Reeve Coles' remark.

For Peace Arch.

The Council decided to contribute $50 toward the work of making permanent the big Peace Arch on Belleville Street, and charge the amount up to advertising. The work will cost $650. The Victoria and Island Development Association and the Rotary Club are subscribing $150 each, and Victoria and the other Municipalities will also contribute toward the cost.

Housing Scheme.

Councillor Porter said there were a good many returned soldiers working in the Navy Yard at present, and in discussion with some of them he was given the impression they felt Esquimalt was not doing enough toward helping returned soldiers to settle in the district by assisting them under the housing scheme.

Reeve Cole pointed out that the facts of the case disproved any such assertion and if, instead of complaining, the men referred to would file an application with the Council, the matter would be dealt with and given due consideration.

COUNCIL PERTURBED BY SMOKE NUISANCE

But Will Do Nothing Until Mill Operators Have Been Interviewed

A repetition of last year's "smoke" and "fume" agitation seemed to be forecasted in a petition received by the City Council last night in which seventeen residents of the Gorge-Hillside districts protested against the "dirty nuisance" alleged to be emanating from the newly-opened Canadian Puget Sound Mill. Feeling that industries like the big mill should be encouraged, the civic authorities decided to deal carefully with the question, and to do nothing until City Engineer Preston has had an opportunity of investigating the whole matter. It is hoped that the mill operators will be able to prevent the trouble without any drastic interference.

"Prior to the last two or three weeks," says the petition, "the district was almost free from the old nuisance. But it seems that with the opening-up of the Puget Sound mill we are to be again deluged with this dirty nuisance. Not only is vegetation in the gardens covered, but our wives dread hanging the clean clothes on the line, or to open the windows of the house, knowing full well that everything will be covered with the sawdust and cinders."

"The Canadian Puget Sound Lumber and Timber Company is a new concern," observed Alderman Sangster, "and should be encouraged even though we have to put up with a little smoke or sawdust. We should view these matters in a broad-minded way."

PAVING ON NORTH SHORE

Hard Surfacing Contract for North Vancouver City and District Councils

For the two and a half miles of hard surfacing from the ferry landing, North Vancouver, to the end of the paving in West Vancouver the tender of the Columbia Bitulithic, Ltd., has been recommended by the joint committee of the North Vancouver city and district councils, and the recommendation has been confirmed by the Department of Public Works. The matter now only remains to be confirmed by the councils of the respective districts. This announcement was made by an official of the contracting company today.
